Why China's Dream is the New Threat to World Order

By Mosher Steven W.

Key Sales Points:

* Includes exclusive Australian introduction. * An essential read by a leading Western authority on China about the history, nature and extent of the threat of China to its Asian neighbours and the liberal world order, the US and its democratic allies. * Details the historical background and development of hegemony (political, economic and military dominance of one group over another) in China that underlies its political system, strategy and foreign policy. * A timely new edition for readers interested in geopolitics, the rise of the Chinese economy and military, and the role of and potential impact on the United States and other Western democracies including Australia, particularly given Australia's history and current relationship with China and our location in the Asia-Pacific region.

Publicity: * National coverage in newspapers and publications including The Guardian, The Conversation, Inside Story, and on current affairs podcasts.

In a world bristling with dangers, only one enemy poses a truly mortal challenge to the United States and the West and the peaceful and prosperous world that America guarantees. That enemy is China, a country that invented totalitarianism thousands of years ago; whose economic power rivals the US; that believes its superior race and culture give it the right to universal deference; that teaches its people to hate America for standing in the way of achieving its narcissistic "dream" of world domination; that believes in its manifest destiny to usher in the World of Great Harmony; and which publishes maps showing the exact extent of the nuclear destruction it could rain down on the United States. Steven Mosher exposes the resurgent aspirations of the would-be hegemon—and the roots of China's will to domination in its five-thousand-year history of ruthless conquest and assimilation of other nations, brutal repression of its own people, and belligerence toward any civilisation that challenges its claim to superiority. The naïve idealism of our 'China hands' has lulled America into a fool's dream of "engagement" with the People's Republic of China and its "peaceful evolution" toward democracy and freedom.

Paper Paradise

Do What You Want To Do

By Wheatley Glenn

Key Sales Points:

* New edition of the bestseller with a new foreword by the author. First edition released in 1999. * An honest and entertaining memoir about ambition, success and rock and roll—a story about one man’s meteoric rise and spectacular fall set against a classic Australian soundtrack. * Few others have had the impact on the Australian music industry as Glenn Wheatley has, from working class boy to rockstar and star manager; he’s worked with some of Australia’s most recognisable and successful musicians including Little River Band, John Farnham and Delta Goodrem; pioneered the FM Radio industry; made national headlines, experienced failure and resurrected his career—and he shares all of this in Paper Paradise. * Audiobook and Spotify playlist featuring Masters Apprentices, John Farnham and more also available.

Publicity: * National, state and regional media including News Ltd and Fairfax-Nine newspapers in all states, Triple M and Southern Cross FM radio networks, network television (Seven and Nine), ABC, SBS, CBS and others.

Paper Paradise: Do what you want to do is a roller coaster ride through the sex, drugs and rock and roll of the '60s and '70s to the high-flying business world of the '80s and into the '90s and beyond—with someone who lives it all right up to today. It is a book about ambition, hunger, desperation, success and the fruits thereof. Oh yes, it is also about failure and fighting back. Charting the extraordinary life and times of Glenn Wheatley, from working class boy to rock star of the 1960s and 1970s as a member of one of Australia’s most successful early bands, the Masters Apprentices, now immortalised in the ARIA Hall of Fame. In their heyday, the Masters drew bigger crowds than the Beatles in Australia. In the 1980s he soared from rock star to star manager of the Little River Band and Whispering Jack, John Farnham. He also pioneered the FM Radio industry with the first FM radio station to go to air in Australia, EON FM in Melbourne. He then went on to build the foundation of what is now the Triple M radio network. It is a narrative littered with casualties and is an actual account of a self-protective society that has its own Kings and Queens, its own iconography, its own language. Glenn is the ultimate rock and roll survivor.

Author Bio:

Glenn Wheatley’s 40-year career in the entertainment industry is centred around Contemporary Music and Media. His business interests have expanded to encompass Artist Management, Recording and Radio. In 1999 Glenn was inducted into the ARIA Hall of Fame (Masters Apprentices) and he is also a recipient of the Advance Australia Award for Outstanding Contribution in the Entertainment Industry, a Council Member for ScreenSound Australia.

Secrets of a River Swimmer

By Turner S.S.

Key Sales Points:

* "A profound story that is about all our lives. I cannot recommend it highly enough." – Heather Morris, #1 New York Times bestselling author of The Tattooist of Auschwitz.

As Freddy gazes at the majestic river gushing past him in the depths of a Scottish winter, he's ready to jump in and end his life. But what happens next is not what Freddy expects. From the moment he enters the river, Freddy starts a journey which is more beautiful, funny, and mysterious than he could have imagined. And through this journey Freddy's story becomes interweaved with a cast of unforgettable characters who are equally lost and in search of answers. Eventually they all unite in their quest for an answer to the biggest question of them all: will the river take them where they want to go? In the tradition of inspirational works of fiction like The Alchemist and Life of Pi, Secrets of a River Swimmer is at once a profound exploration into living with meaning and an affecting story of people on the cusp of change.

Author Bio:

S.S. Turner has been an avid reader, writer, and explorer of the natural world throughout his life which has been spent in England, Scotland and Australia. Just like Freddy in his first novel, Secrets of a River Swimmer, he worked in the global fund management sector for many years but realized it didn't align with his values. In recent years, he's been focused on inspiring positive change through his writing as well as trying not to laugh in unfortunate situations. He now lives in Australia with his wife, daughter, two dogs, two cats, and ten chickens.

S.S. Turner has written a profound story that is about all our lives. He has found the connection that makes us all the same, while remaining unique. His words will resonate with every reader as they see themselves, find themselves embedded in them. You will not escape, you will not want to escape from the depth of your own world he reminds you is yours to be lived, to survive and thrive. I am honoured to have read an advance copy of Secrets of a River Swimmer and cannot recommend it highly enough.--

An Incomplete History of Community Radio

2SER's 46 Boxes of Stuff

By Liz Giuffre and Demetrius Romeo

Key Sales Points:

- * Several of today's household names described and illustrated in their early media days.
- * Foreword by Monica Attard.
- * 2SER has a committed broad listener/fan base.
- * Features heart-warming personal stories.
- * Aims at community radio people in every state.

Publicity:

- *Excellent radio promotion, on 2SER and sister stations interstate.

This effervescent history is a window into the wonderful world of community radio—an inspiration to fans of free expression, wherever they are. Forty six unsorted boxes in a damp basement contained the “archives” of one of Australia’s least orthodox media institutions. A quirky record of highs and lows, full of good humour but really accurate. Amazingly, from those daunting vestiges, Liz Giuffre and Demetrius Romeo have woven a compelling book about 2SER and its colourful people. Their “incomplete history” has a way of telling all: * The miraculous permanence of an experimental station, * Funny, embarrassing and revealing moments in four decades of radio, * 2SER’s mercurial career, delivering music and messages that struggled for a hearing, * Adventures of intrepid volunteers, who often went on to make household names in media and politics.

Author Bio:

Liz Giuffre lectures in Communication at the UTS, working on media histories as well as contemporary forms like podcasts and born-digital media. Liz is a host and producer of 2SER's "Music Mothers and Others". Demetrius Romeo has written and broadcast for years about music and comedy as an 'enthusiast' before returning to university to do much the same, academically.

In Living Memory

By McGregor Alasdair

Key Sales Points:

- * Major nostalgic appeal to babyboomer market.
- * More than 300 photographs from library, newspaper and private collections.
- * National coverage.

Publicity:

- * Promotion on AG website.

The story of Australia in the middle decades of the 20th century – from 1930 to 1980 – is one of dramatic contrast; of dark days and light – of economic struggle, anxiety, war and sacrifice, giving way from the 1950s onwards to prosperity, plenty and confidence.

In Living Memory surveys these decades with a collection of fascinating and entertaining photographs of everyday Australian life.

Author Alasdair McGregor places the images in their historical context with a thoughtful essay to introduce each of the four chapters – the way we lived, the way we moved, the way we worked and the way we played.

This warmly nostalgic collection will appeal to all ages.

Entertaining Lives

The Nancy Astor & Nancy Lancaster Cookbook

By Jane Churchill and Emily Astor

Nancy Astor and her niece Nancy Lancaster were two of the great hostesses of the twentieth century, entertaining at a pitch perfect level of luxury, comfort and elegance.

The food they served was always delicious, and the discovery of Nancy Astor's privately bound cookbook containing the recipes from the Langhorne family house, Mirador in West Virginia, is published for the first time.

Over 70 recipes that were regularly 'mixed in with' classic French and English cuisine, are an ode to the flavours of the South; that conjured up mealtimes imbued with wit and laughter, tears and tantrums, arguments and reconciliations and were the thread that held the family together.

Author Bio:

Jane Churchill is the great-great niece of Nancy Astor and Nancy Lancaster's great-niece. She discovered the Mirador Cookbook in her family archive and was inspired by its contents to create this book. She is an internationally acclaimed interior designer in her own right. A lover of good food, she says 'I'm always ready for the next meal!' ## Twenty to the Mile: The Overland Telegraph Line

The greatest engineering feat of 19th century Australia

By Pugh Derek

Key Sales Points:

- * The 150th Anniversary of the OTL falls in 2022.
- * The OTL enabled communication between Australia and Europe to take less than a day, as opposed to 6 weeks. It was the satellite communication or internet of its day, and its effects in Australia were as profound. The 'tyranny of distance' was broken.
- * Commemorations are planned along its length throughout the year, with major date (the joining) on 22 August 2022.

Publicity: * Book launches: * Darwin January 2022 * Port Augusta * Adelaide *Talk back radio - Conversations on ABC * Local radio. * Publicity event at Alice Springs Telegraph Station – Heritage week. * Articles in NT papers, NT Resident magazine * Public Lectures LANT

The greatest engineering problem facing Australia – the tyranny of distance – had a solution: the electric telegraph, and its champion was the sheep-farming state of South Australia. In two years, Charles Heavitree Todd, leading hundreds of men, constructed a telegraph line across the centre of the continent from Port Augusta to Port Darwin. At nearly 3,000 kilometres long and using 36,000 poles at '20 to the mile', it was a mammoth undertaking, but at last, in October 1872, Adelaide was linked to London. The Overland Telegraph Line crossed Aboriginal lands first seen by John McDouall Stuart just 10 years before and messages which previously took weeks to cross the country now took hours. The unique stories of how men and women lived and/or died on the line range from heroic, through desperate, to tragic, but they remain an indelible part of Australia's history.

Key Sales Points:

- * Australian Colonial Novels, with a nice outcome.
- * Sydney 1790s to England 1830s.

With deeply scarred hearts ANNIE & SAM need answers. Annie White, freed after serving her seven years as a convict in Sydney, gets a visitor who will change her life.

She starts a baking business, and just as it's making a profit, she's then asked to assist another freed convict, named Sam Corbett.

Annie nurses him back to health, and they settle into a life together, barely making ends meet; she realises she's pregnant. Sam has his own past laid bare, and he must adjust to the revelations.

They both must face their accusers, and they find that the answers to their questions are not what they thought.

Their life experiences seem to cling tightly to them both, unable to shake it; finally, they end up back in England, facing their ghosts and discover they are not whom they think they are. How can they turn their anger and spite into love and forgiveness? The Dance of Life goes on.

Norse Eddas

By Saemund Sigfusson and Snorre Sturleson

Key Sales Points:

* One of the most influential works of literature, detailing the founding myths of the Viking Age with a wide-ranging impact on storytelling, contemporary fiction, and film. * Tales inspiring numerous pop culture icons including The Lord of the Rings, Marvel movie heroes and the God of War video game series. * High quality hard bound print with gold foil cover and limited print run.

Publicity: * Promoted as part of the Scandinavian Film Festival. * Collaboration with Mjolner Sydney Restaurant Marketing.

Vikings came from a rich cultural heritage of storytelling and poetry. The poet was one of the most respected persons in Norse society and could always expect wealth and welcome in exchange for their talents. For the first time, Viking lore was set down in writing for future generations to read. This creative impulse expressed itself in two forms: The first was the Eddas – the collected poetry and myths of the Old Norse gods, goddesses, and heroes. But the second impulse may have been the more remarkable: the Icelanders set down the stories of their ancestors – ordinary men and women. We are lucky that this body of work has survived and been passed down to us, and indeed it has influenced so many people in so many ways. We encourage the reader to try these fantastic poems, stories, and books to gain a fuller experience of this art and to be edified by the men and women who came before us. The lives, loves, and wisdom of the past can lead to better understanding and appreciation of what humanity shares regardless of time or distance.

Kalevala

By Lonnrot Elias

Key Sales Points:

* One of the most significant works of Finnish literature, marking an important turning point for the country's culture through a national epic around the Finnish language. * Inspired many outstanding works of art including the poems of Longfellow, the paintings of Akseli Gallen-Kallela and the musical compositions of Jean Sibelius. * High quality hard bound print with gold foil cover and limited print run.

Publicity: * Promoted as part of the Scandinavian Film Festival. * Collaboration with Mjolner Sydney Restaurant Marketing.

The first edition of the Kalevala appeared in 1835, compiled and edited by Elias Lönnrot based on the epic folk poems he had collected in Finland and Karelia. This poetic song tradition, sung in an unusual, archaic trochaic tetrametre, had been part of the oral tradition among speakers of Balto-Finnic languages for 2,000 years. The Kalevala marked an important turning point for Finnish-language culture and caused a stir abroad, as well. It brought a small, unknown people to the attention of other Europeans, and bolstered the Finns' self-confidence and faith in the possibilities of the Finnish language and culture. The Kalevala began to be called the Finnish national epic. Elias Lönnrot and his colleagues continued their efforts to collect folk poetry, and new material quickly accumulated. Using this new material, Lönnrot published a second, expanded version of the Kalevala in 1849. This New Kalevala is the version which has been read in Finland ever since and upon which most translations are based.

THE SHEPHERD MOON

9 780648 118558

Author Bio:

With more than 20 years of experience as a self-employed consultant, coach and teacher, Kerry has worked with hundreds of managers and leaders. For most of that time, Kerry has taught project management and provided strategic business planning advice and management consulting services to organisations large and small. Kerry is also an entrepreneur. Having survived two business start-ups and the volatility of business in the wake of the Covid-19 pandemic, Kerry understands, personally, the realities and frustrations of business and leading a team through change. These days Kerry works with her husband Craig across their three diverse family businesses with a team of more than 35 people.

Heartfelt Leadership

Nine principles to sort your team, work and life

By Swan Kerry

Key Sales Points:

* It is a practical book to provide immediate solutions to common team, work and life problems. * Heartfelt Leadership was written for smart people who need to get things done. Senior leaders who are good at their job, but want direct, no-nonsense advice and need a mix of strategic and practical support. * Heartfelt Leadership is different because it has been written from lived experience. The author has built several small businesses and consulted with many large organisations. Rich with stories that will resonate with the harassed and busy leader, Heartfelt Leadership provides immediate practical relief and space for reflection.

Publicity: * The author has engaged Scott Eathorne from QuikMarkMedia to deliver a three month campaign (February to April 2022). The campaign will focus on magazine editorial, newspaper and online coverage and later online, radio and podcast activities.

For too long, the world has adopted a masculine approach to leadership – leadership that is heavy on logic, mathematics and results. Kerry Swan's Heartfelt Leadership model challenges this approach and proposes that if you want to lead people and projects to success, you need to reorient your leadership to a more balanced perspective. Developed from twenty years' experience as a business coach and consultant, in Heartfelt Leadership, Kerry outlines her model that has helped hundreds of leaders, to solve their day-to-day management pain. Heartfelt Leadership is about two things: fixing work, people and team problems, and then understanding the deeper reasons why you have the issues in the first place. With a more balanced and courageous approach, this book will help you get more done with less stress regarding your people and projects. Adopting the approach in this book will set you and your team up for high levels of accountability and teach you the importance of difficult conversations. You will understand the language of heartfelt leaders and focus on the brevity of life to make sure that your legacy lives on. Heartfelt Leadership is a roadmap, a way forward, and it offers simple straightforward advice to leaders in the trenches.

Mair Elliott is a young patient activist working as a self-employed consultant and with various third sector/public organisations to improve awareness of mental health and autism. She was diagnosed at 15 with autism after having entered the psychiatric system due to mental health difficulties.

From Hurt to Hope

Stories of Mental Health, Mental Illness and Being Autistic

By Elliott Mair

Key Sales Points:

- * Collected essays from autistic people who have overcome a range of mental health issues.
- * At turns heart-breaking, enlightening, frank and inspiring.

Almost 80% of autistic people have a co-occurring mental health condition, and this powerful book puts their voices front and centre, showcasing the human experience beyond the medicalised language and diagnoses.

This poignant essay collection shines a light on voices that often go unheard in our society.

Covering a range of experiences from multiple ages, genders and backgrounds, discussions include trauma, relationships, masking, healthcare, intersectionality and more.

The essays are structured along the topics of hurt (personal experiences and how they shaped the contributor), help (the tools and tips which have helped on their personal journeys), and hope (looking forward to the future).

At times touching, humorous, and enraging, this book offers a frank and honest depiction of the challenges autistic people face and the knock-on effect on their mental health.

A challenge to change how our society treats and values one another.

How to Become a Really Good Pain in the Ass

DiCarlo Christopher

10-YEAR ANNIVERSARY EDITION. In this witty, incisive guide to critical thinking the author provides you with the tools to allow you to question beliefs and assumptions held by those who claim to know what they're talking about. These days there are many people whom we need to question: politicians, lawyers, doctors, teachers, clergy members, bankers, car salesmen, and your boss. This book will empower you with the ability to spot faulty reasoning and, by asking the right sorts of questions, hold people accountable not only for what they believe but how they behave. By using this book you'll learn to analyse your own thoughts, ideas, and beliefs, and why you act on them (or don't). This, in turn, will help you to understand why others might hold opposing views. And the best way to change our own or others' behavior or attitudes is to gain greater clarity about underlying motives and thought processes.

Our Last Best Act

McDuff Mallory

As we begin to contemplate death and to embark on practical planning for life's end, many of us long to leave a legacy beyond a transfer of money and property--one that ensures a sustainable earth for our loved ones, our communities, and generations to come. But where do we even begin? Utterly unprepared both emotionally and practically, she began to research sustainable practices around death and dying, determined to honour their commitment to caring for the earth. For McDuff, an educator and environmentalist, what started as a highly personal Endeavor expanded into a yearlong exploration and assessment of green burials, squamation, green cemeteries, home funerals, and human composting. In Our Last Best Act, McDuff bridges the gap between environmental action and religious faith by demonstrating that when the two are combined, they become a powerful force for the greater good. Full of practical information and support, this book equips readers to make decisions for their own end-of-life planning.

Messy Minimalism

Crawford Rachelle

Think minimalism means a perfectly curated, always tidy home? Think again. Drowning in tides of toys, overflowing closets, and a crazy schedule, Rachelle Crawford assumed you had to be naturally organized to keep a tidy living space. Then she found minimalism: the messy, real-life kind, that is less about perfection and more about purpose. Thus began a journey toward decluttering her home, calendar, and soul. With empathy, grace, and humour, Crawford--who curates the popular Abundant Life with Less site--shares doable ways to own less and live more fully. Laying out practical strategies for reducing waste, curbing consumption, decluttering, and finding lots more joy, Crawford offers no-nonsense solutions for the rest of us. Learn to become a more conscious consumer, create a capsule wardrobe, inspire family members to join you, free up more time for the things that matter, and create a tidy(ish) home. The messy minimalist way is a no-judgment zone, one in which we learn sustainable habits and grace-based practices. It's about living lightly on the earth and making room for purpose.

Chicken Soup For the Soul: Tough Times Won't Last But Tough People Will

101 Stories about Overcoming Life's Challenges

By Newmark Amy

Key Sales Points:

* The timeliest of topics, this book serves a dual purpose. It will quench readers' thirst for positive, feel-good stories and act as blueprint for those struggling with their own challenges. * Covid-19 stories will appear in the book, though it is not a book about "coming back strong" from the pandemic specifically, so it is an evergreen topic. * Chicken Soup for the Soul always does well with self-help titles that show readers how to overcome adversity, conquer challenges, think positively, embrace change, and find their path to happiness.

Publicity:

* PR campaign prior to and after publication, including being featured in CSS's own podcast, book trailers, videos and publication of excerpts in blogs, websites and newspapers. including a two-page spread in two issues of First for Women magazine with 3.5 million female readers.

You'll find role models in these stories. They'll inspire and support you through all types of difficult situations, whether financial, health-related, family or personal issues. Read personal, revealing stories from real people about meeting their challenges.

Some found enjoyment in a simpler way of life after being downsized, others found silver linings in the most unlikely places, and for some, it took a personal crisis to realize the true value of family. Though each of these 101 stories is unique, they all teach the same important lesson - that no matter how hard or how often you're knocked down, you can come back, and come back strong.

Chicken Soup for the Soul books are 100% made in the USA and each book includes stories from as diverse a group of writers as possible. Chicken Soup for the Soul solicits and publishes stories from the LGBTQ community and from people of all ethnicities, nationalities, and religions.

Hidden Mercy

AIDS, Catholics, and the Untold Stories of Compassion in the Face of Fear

By O'Loughlin Michael J.

Key Sales Points:

- * "Instead of indifference, distancing and even condemnation, these people let themselves be moved by mercy." —Pope Francis
- * The New York Times Op-Ed article 11/15/21 – included in the print edition of today's paper!
- * Vatican News - 11/16/21 (5M uvm) – this article has been printed widely in international newspapers (Italy, Spain, Australia, Korea, and more)
- * Michael O'Loughlin will be interviewed on NPR's Here and Now on December 1st – World AIDS Day.

The 1980s and 1990s, the height of the AIDS crisis in the United States, was decades ago now, and many of the stories from this time remain hidden: A Catholic nun from a small Midwestern town packs up her life to move to New York City, where she throws herself into a community under assault from HIV and AIDS. A young priest sees himself in the many gay men dying from AIDS and grapples with how best to respond, eventually coming out as gay and putting his own career on the line. A gay Catholic with HIV loses his partner to AIDS and then flees the church, focusing his energy on his own health rather than fight an institution seemingly rejecting him.

Set against the backdrop of the HIV and AIDS epidemic of the late twentieth century and the Catholic Church's crackdown on gay and lesbian activists, journalist Michael O'Loughlin searches out the untold stories of those who didn't look away, who at great personal cost chose compassion—even as he seeks insight for LGBTQ people of faith struggling to find a home in religious communities today. This is one journalist—gay and Catholic himself—compelling picture of those quiet heroes who responded to human suffering when so much of society—and so much of the church—told them to look away. These pure acts of compassion and mercy offer us hope and inspiration as we continue to confront existential questions about what it means to be Americans, Christians, and human beings responding to those most in need.

Author Bio:

Michael J. O'Loughlin is an award-winning journalist and the national correspondent for America Media. He is the host of the podcast Plague: Untold Stories of AIDS and the Catholic Church, recommended by The New York Times and featured on NPR. Prior to joining America magazine, O'Loughlin was a national reporter for The Boston Globe. He has written for The Atlantic, The Washington Post, Foreign Policy, National Catholic Reporter, and The Advocate and has been featured on MSNBC, Fox News, ABC, CBS, and NPR. He lives in Chicago.

Be the Brave One

Living Your Spiritual Values Out Loud and Nine Other Life Lessons

By Kansfield Ann

Part personal narrative, part spiritual formation guide, Be the Brave One is the story of Rev. Ann Kansfield leaving the grind of Wall Street and finding her calling at a church in Greenpoint, Brooklyn; becoming the first female and openly gay chaplain at the New York Fire Department; and getting voted the inaugural New York Times New Yorker of the Year.

Guiding her story are the values that anchor her life in an adventurous faith and have allowed her to transform from a "run-of-the-mill capitalist jerk" into a pastor, chaplain, wife, mother, and spiritual leader.

Be the Brave One weaves gritty, real-life stories with witty commentary and practical faith to explore what it looks like to live out our convictions in our daily lives--and how that can radically change us and those around us.

Ultimately, Kansfield's story will leave readers both comforted and challenged to discover and live out their own spiritual values.

Games Children Play II: 241 Fun Games for Groups and Families

Games to develop social skills, teamwork, balance and coordination

By Kin John Payne and Cory Waletzko

This is a collection of 232 tried and tested games to play with children and groups of all ages. This is a companion to the Waldorf Games Handbook for the Early Years (2020). It is a thoroughly updated second edition of the classic, Games Children Play (1996) with new games added, by popular demand. Each game is clearly and simply described, with diagrams and drawings for how to play. There are games for helping graceful movement, co-operation, fairness and equality for the 7-10's. Games for courage, accuracy, teamwork and gentle preparation for sports for 11- to 12-year-olds, along with games for renewing playground culture and holding a DIY Olympic Games. How to develop spatial awareness is described through sport, gymnastics and outdoor games. There are sections on child development, introducing games sessions, children's temperaments, the senses, tackling children's problems with play or sport, how to introduce games sessions, teaching movement to children, and cultivating the lost art of real-life play with children challenged by the digital age. Games include variations depending on the age and number of players. There are tips for the games leaders on meeting the varying social and emotional needs of the players within a group. A section sets the context for the ever-increasing need for 'IRL Games' for children growing up in a digital age. Some new games have an embedded subheading, 'For children who may struggle to play this game,' as well as practical/do-able tips on how we can engage this new generation of children.

Cosmic Communion

Star Wisdom Volume 4 with monthly ephemerides and commentary for 2022

By Park Joel Matthew

This annual publication features articles on star wisdom (astrosophy) and a guide to the correspondences between stellar configurations during the life of Christ and those of today. The guide includes a complete sidereal ephemeris and aspectarian, geocentric and heliocentric for each day of the year for 2022.

According to Rudolf Steiner, each step taken by Christ during his ministry, from the Baptism in the Jordan to his Resurrection, was in harmony with, and an expression of, the cosmos. The Star Wisdom series is concerned with these heavenly correspondences during the life of Christ and is intended to help in building a foundation for cosmic Christianity, the cosmic dimension of Christianity. It is this approach that, until now, has been largely missing from Christianity and its 2,000-year history.

Readers can begin this path today by contemplating the movements of the Sun, Moon, and planets against the background of the zodiacal constellations (sidereal signs) in relation to corresponding stellar events during the life of Christ. In this way, the possibility is opened for attuning in a living way to the life of Christ, who since the beginning of his Second Coming in 1933 is now spiritually present in the etheric aura of the Earth.

Dreams of Near and Far

By Martin Widmark and Illust. by Emilia Dziubak

Noah and Mia live far, far away from each other, but look out upon the same great sea. In the evening, Noah and his dog Gus watch the sun softly slip beneath the waves; in the morning, Mia and her cat Olive watch from the cliffs as it rises.

When Gus dies, Noah is heartbroken. In his dreams he searches for his loyal friend, but instead finds only an unfamiliar black cat. Mia dreams too: of a life better than the one she has now, and of a place to call home. When Olive leads her down an unknown path, Mia begins an epic journey which takes her somewhere she never expected.

Will Mia and Noah find all they've dreamt of?

Poignant and uplifting, Martin Widmark's story of finding hope and a home is accompanied by stunning illustrations from Emilia Dziubak, which alternate between the two characters interconnected journeys. Martin and Emilia are co-creators of USBBY Outstanding International Book The House of Lost and Found, and of Little Pearl.

Author Bio:

Martin Widmark is the bestselling Swedish children's author of over 100 books. His titles consistently top Sweden's bestseller lists and have been translated into more than thirty-five languages. Before becoming a full-time author, Martin worked as a middle-school teacher and a Swedish language teacher for immigrants, and now uses his experiences to promote reading and literacy for young people. He is the author of The House of Lost and Found and Little Pearl (Floris Books). Emilia Dziubak is an award-winning artist from Poland. She is a graduate of the Academy of Fine Arts in Poznan and has illustrated numerous children's picture books that have been translated into many languages. She is the illustrator of USBBY- listed The House of Lost and Found, as well as Little Pearl and Dreams of Near and Far, also co-created with Martin Widmark.

Coding with HTML & JavaScript - Create Epic Computer Games

The QuestKids do Coding

By Wainewright Max

Key Sales Points:

* Coding for children has become a popular area in computing books. * The series is developed and designed by the In Easy Steps team. * Scratch is a project of the Scratch Foundation, in collaboration with the Lifelong Kindergarten Group at the MIT Media Lab. It is available for free at <https://scratch.mit.edu>. * A supporting website (thequestkids.com) provides downloadable resources and additional interactive learning.

Coding with HTML JavaScript – Create Epic Computer Games is ideal for readers with some experience of coding with Scratch but are ready to take their coding to the next level. Readers will learn the basics of making games with HTML and JavaScript with the programming languages used by professional game developers. Readers will learn how to: * Make images move and respond to keyboard presses. * Draw objects on the canvas and use variables and timers. * Import images and add sounds. * Develop their skills and build some amazing games! To create the games in this book, children will need a desktop computer or a laptop. The games require a proper keyboard so will not work well on a tablet or iPad. It is recommended that children should be supervised when using the internet, especially when using a new website.
