More than a Glass and a Half

A History of Cadbury in Australia

By Crawford Robert

Key Sales Points:

- * Nostalgic memories of generations of favourite chocolates.
- * Support from Cadbury publicising the book.
- * Centenary of Cadbury's factory in Tasmania.
- * A handsome book with eye catching presentation, inspired by chocolate and wrapping.
- * A proper illustrated history book with the whole story rather than marketing dept. puff.

Publicity:

- * Cadbury plans to work the media in two bursts: pre-Easter with Easter emphasis. Post-Easter with Centenary and history emphasis.
- * Conventional book promotion by Halstead Press will seek reviews, interviews etc.

This richly illustrated survey of Cadbury's in Australia includes the story of famous products like Freddo Frogs, Dairy Milk chocolate, Cherry Ripes and Bournville Cocoa. It reveals Australians' experience of Cadbury during peacetime and war, depression and prosperity. There's a lot in it for chocolate lovers and for history buffs. Also, insights into market leadership, and a record of how the brand earned and maintained the trust and affection of millions. The checked and creative careers of Cadbury's competitors add drama to the narrative. In his balanced survey of highs and lows, Robert Crawford explains how the British parent company founded its first overseas factory, in Tasmania, and how that later helped to launch Australian innovations in China, America and other countries. After a hundred years manufacturing in Australia, Cadbury's renown is hardly surprising. But this book goes further back, to find Cadbury already a household name in Gold Rush times.

It describes distribution hubs Cadbury's operated in Australian colonies, while representatives covered the country, even travelling the outback with camels. It's interesting to read of the moral concerns that made Cadbury wary of being identified with the war effort and Sydney's Gay Mardi Gras. But most interesting in this book is what it reveals about generations of Australians, their memories, and their place in the world.

Author Bio:

Comes from Melbourne but lived in Sydney for many years before returning to Melbourne where he now lives with his wife and daughter. Robert Crawford is Professor of Advertising and Associate Dean of Research and Innovation in the RMIT University's School of Media and Communication. His field includes history of communication, marketing, and business. He focusses on the growth and development of advertising, marketing, and public relations industries.

Five Languages of Apology

By Gary Chapman and Jennifer Thomas

Key Sales Points:

- * New book by Gary Chapman, author of 5 Love Languages.
- * Applies the Love Languages technique to restoring broken relationships.

Even in the best of relationships, we mess up. We say and do things we deeply regret later.

So, we need to make things right. But just saying you're sorry isn't enough. That's only the first step on the road to restoration.

In The 5 Apology Languages, Gary Chapman, the bestselling author of The 5 Love Languages, helps you on the journey toward restored relationships.

True healing comes when you learn to express regret, accept responsibility, make restitution, plan for change, and request forgiveness.

True healing comes when you learn to:

- * Express regret: "I'm sorry."
- * Accept responsibility: "I was wrong."
- * Make restitution: "How can I make it right?"
- * Plan for change: "I'll take steps to prevent a reoccurrence."
- * Request forgiveness: "Can you find it in your heart to . . . ?"

Don't let hurts linger or wounds fester. Start on the path to healing today and discover how meaningful apologies can make your friendships, family, and marriage stronger than ever before.

The 5 Languages of Appreciation in the Workplace

Chapman Gary

This book will give you the tools to improve staff morale, create a more positive workplace, and increase employee engagement. How? By teaching you to effectively communicate authentic appreciation and encouragement to employees, co-workers, and leaders. Most relational problems in organizations flow from this question: do people feel appreciated? This book will help you answer "Yes!" A bestseller--having sold over 300,000 copies and translated into 16 languages--this book has proven to be effective and valuable in diverse settings. Its principles about human behavior have helped businesses, non-profits, hospitals, schools, government agencies, and organizations with remote workers. PLUS! Each book contains a free access code for taking the online Motivating By Appreciation (MBA) Inventory (does not apply to purchases of used books). The assessment identifies a person's preferred languages of appreciation to help you apply the book. When supervisors and colleagues understand their co-workers' primary and secondary languages, as well as the specific actions they desire, they can effectively communicate authentic appreciation, thus creating healthy work relationships and raising the level of performance across an entire team or organization.

The Babylon Bee Guide to Wokeness

How to Take Your Wokeness to the Next Level by Cancelling Friends, Breaking Windows, and Burning it all to the Ground

By The Babylon Bee, Kyle Mann and Joel Berry

Key Sales Points:

* The latest book and US bestseller from the satirical sensation The Babylon Bee with over 1 million Facebook followers, 1.3 million Instagram followers, 1.1 million Twitter followers, 30,000 on TikTok and 384,000 on YouTube. * A tongue-in-cheek guide to the Left's intersectional insanity is a must-read for fans of the The Babylon Bee (or the similar style of the satirical Australian Betoota Advocate) or those wanting a humorous dive into and satirical critique of woke ideology. * Packed with illustrations, handy lists, step-by-step instructions and entertaining infographics.

Publicity:

* The Australian, Sky News Australia, The Spectator Australia, The Babylon Bee social media (see account reach in KSPs), digital marketing campaign on Instagram and TikTok.

Author Bio:

Kyle Mann is the editor in chief of The Babylon Bee. He was created in an orc-spawning pit beneath the tower Orthanc near the end of the Third Age. Saruman the Many-Colored drew upon all his dark powers to imbue Kyle with the ability to write satire of semi-acceptable quality from time to time and pillage many small villages in Gondor. Kyle oversees and approves all content posted to the site and writes a good bit of it himself.

Joel Berry is The Babylon Bee's managing editor and a deadly warrior-monk with a shadowy past. Part philosophy-quoting homeschool nerd, part Marine Corps veteran, Joel was found retired in a secluded cabin in the mountains after he swore off his old life and promised to never own a lib again. But Kyle Mann was getting a team together. He convinced Joel to come out of retirement for one final mission: to help run the world's greatest satire site, which he's been doing since 2016.

Wokeness isn't a private religion you can keep to yourself. Once you see the world through woke eyes, you'll never be the same, and you'll never be able to stop telling your friends about your new beliefs. Kind of like when you join CrossFit or become vegan—or get an air fryer. To show the world you're a good person—and to avoid getting cancelled and having your life ruined by a Twitter mob—you need to get WOKE. In The Babylon Bee Guide to Wokeness, the writers of satirical sensation The Babylon Bee tell you how to choose your pronouns, blame everyone else for your problems, and show the world how virtuous you are with virtue-signalling profile pictures and stunning and brave hashtags. A tongue-in-cheek guide to the far Left's obsession with intersectional insanity, The Babylon Bee Guide to Wokeness will help you laugh at the state of our culture, so you don't cry.

No Apologies

Why Civilization Depends on the Strength of Men

By Esolen Anthony

Key Sales Points:

* Best-selling social commentator Anthony Esolen draws on timeless wisdom to defend the masculine virtues of strength, drive, ambition, and determination in building and upholding civilization itself.

* A powerful defence of the virtues of masculine strength. Esolen shows how civilization has rested upon the strength of men.

* Wized, accessible, and powerfully articulated, Esolen draws on two millennia of historical thought, citing giants like Plato, Augustine, Aquinas, Twain, Solzhenitsyn, and others in a vigorous and timely defense of the masculine ethos.

Publicity:

* Author interviews, extracts and feature articles in The Australian/News Ltd, Daily Telegraph, The Spectator Australia, News Weekly, Catholic Weekly, Australian Jewish News, Sky News and others.

This book should not have to be written, and yet it is needed more than ever. Our culture has robbed men of their sense of worth and has taken the noble aim of manliness away from boys. The collapse of manhood has left our social order in critical condition. A generation of young men and boys are being raised in self-loathing, taught that the core of their identity as men is not only abhorrent, but the fountainhead of humanity's ills. A courageous and penetrating writer, Anthony Esolen shows that restoring men to their proper role makes for happy men and happy women. The manhood he praises does not boast or swagger but appreciates its powers and cultivates its unique talents. It is reluctant to hurt, but it does not cringe or cower in the face of duty. The feminist who mindlessly asserts that 'a woman needs a man as a fish needs a bicycle' takes her comfortable world—including the bicycle—for granted. Her talk of 'toxic masculinity' poisons the hearts and minds of the young and risks returning humanity to a barbarous state with more 'toxic' men than she could imagine. No Apologies, with its compelling vision of a strong and effective manhood, reminds us that men have powers as men and how those powers can be used for the common good.

Author Bio:

Anthony Esolen is a professor of English and a writer in residence at Northeast Catholic College in Warner, New Hampshire, USA. A senior editor of Touchstone magazine, Professor Esolen is known for his verse translations of several epic poems, including the three volumes of Dante's Divine Comedy (Random House, Modern Library), Tasso's Jerusalem Delivered (Johns Hopkins), and Lucretius' On the Nature of Things (Johns Hopkins). A noted essayist and social commentator, Anthony Esolen has published books on a broad range topics from literature, to theology, to education and culture, ancient to modern.

The Boxing Butterfly

A Life of Conviction

By Margaret Cunneen and Andrew L. Urban

Key Sales Points:

- * A riveting read for people who enjoy memoirs, true crime and a behind the scenes look at high profile criminal cases. Readers will also gain an insight into the work and workings of a senior female barrister in the prime of her career.
- * Contains personal, emotive recollections of over a dozen landmark cases, including a detailed breakdown of the Independent Commission Against Corruption (ICAC) failed High Court bid to investigate Margaret.
- * Includes: Margaret's milestone cases as Madam Crown including Robert 'Dolly' Dunn (the evil paedophile), Graeme Reeves ('The Butcher of Bega'), and the Skaf Gang (infamous rapists); and for the defence including Kulwinder Singh (accused of burning his wife to death—not guilty), Blake Davis (accused of murder with samurai sword—self-defence) and Mr Wang (Chinese movie producer, accused of rape—not guilty); 10 speeches and articles; previously unpublished material including letters, emails and transcripts.

Publicity: * Promotion on the Wrongful Convictions Report website, Outsiders (Sky News), Spectator Australia, The Age, The Sydney Morning Herald, ABC Radio National and podcasts including Australian True Crime (Australia's #1 True Crime podcast).

The Boxing Butterfly is a career chronicle of Margaret Cunneen SC—the boxing butterfly who turned the tables on ICAC, amidst prosecuting murderers, paedophiles and rapists—as she launches into her new chapter as a defence barrister. In her rear view mirror, Cunneen sees her trial successes—her convictions—interspersed with the flak from the ground fire of some colleagues who resented her success and were determined to stop her climb to greater heights. She regrets nothing and is totally satisfied with what she does. As Madam Crown, she empathised with the victims and their families. Now, as defence counsel she empathises with the accused she defends. And what stories she tells! Some are gruesome and confronting, such as prosecuting the irreverent Skafs for gang rape, Robert 'Dolly' Dunn for paedophilia, the Butcher of Bega for unspeakable medical malpractice and the Charbaji Brothers for an ice-fuelled torture session that ended in murder.

Author Bio:

For most of her working life, over 30 years, Margaret Cunneen SC was a Crown Prosecutor in NSW. She prosecuted many noted cases of murder, paedophilia and gang rape and was appointed Senior Counsel in 2007. Andrew L. Urban's first novel, If You Promise Not To Tell was nominated in the inaugural Ned Kelly Awards for Best First Crime Fiction. He co-published with his wife Louise, the online movie magazine, Urban Cinefile for 20 years. During his lifelong career as a journalist, he has had over 2,000 freelance articles published in a variety of publications in Australia and internationally.

YOUR BEST GUT

The 28-Day Guide
to Transform Your Life

DR PAUL FROOMES

Your Best Gut

The 28-Day Guide to Transform Your Life

By Froomes Dr. Paul

Key Sales Points:

* Books on gut health continue to sell well and be much needed—it is an area of ongoing interest as our diets and busy lifestyles play havoc with our digestion and gut health, leading to other illnesses in the body. Especially in Covid times, quality and trustworthy information on improving your gut health and the connection between your gut and improved immunity and overall wellbeing are more essential and needed than ever before. * Dr Paul Froomes is a gastroenterologist who works with gut microbiome therapies, he is an expert who writes about complex health matters in an easy to understand and even enjoyable way, making gut health knowledge accessible for everyone. * Original Australian content: many gut health books are import titles from overseas, Paul is an Australian doctor, and the book includes real life case studies. * The book covers both medical treatment including faecal microbial transplant, as well as basic changes you can implement on your own such as probiotic use and dietary changes. * Includes a section with Low FODMAP diet recipes and Microbiome reload diet recipes.

Publicity: * Interviews, extracts and reviews in national media including newspapers and radio (2GB, 3AW, ABC National); online advertising and Facebook and Instagram promotion.

Whether we like it or not, we are all obsessed with our bowels. And for good reason, nature and evolution have conspired against us by hard wiring our gut microbes and gut nerves to our brain. They form part of our psyche and our vernacular 'Go with your gut feeling on this!' Right? Your Best Gut delves masterfully into the fascinating phenomenon that is gut microbiome and how this new living organ is intimately linked to everything from obesity to inflammatory bowel disease to multiple sclerosis to depression. Written by a gastroenterologist currently working with cutting-edge gut microbiome therapies and faecal transplants, Your Best Gut brings a unique perspective to this popular global phenomenon. Punctuated with real-life experiences of faecal transplant patients, this book takes a serious but sometimes amusing look at the gut microbiome, its role in disease, and gives a revolutionary insight into how to bring your gut microbes and you back to health.

Author Bio:

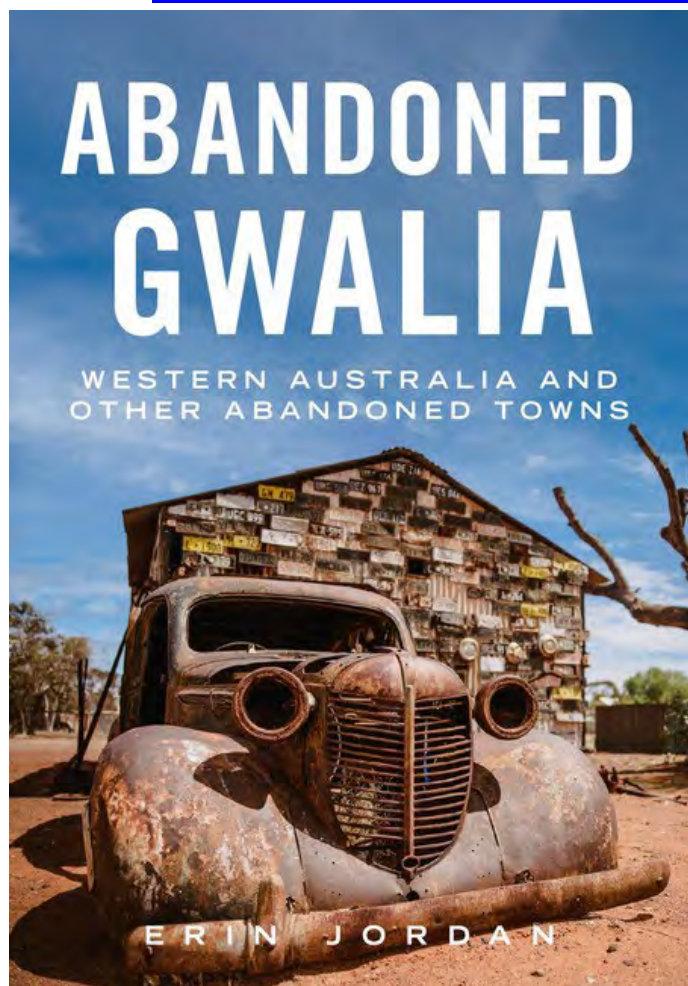

Dr Paul Froomes is a Melbourne-based consultant physician and gastroenterologist who aims to provide the best in health care for all problems related to the gastrointestinal tract and the liver. Dr Froomes' specialty is in diagnosing and managing disorder related to imbalances in the microbial structure of the gut microbiome.

Abandoned Gwalia, Western Australia, and other abandoned towns

By Jordan Erin

Key Sales Points:

- * Beautifully photographed book of abandoned towns in outback Australia.
- * Will appeal to anyone with an interest in architecture or history.
- * Award-winning photographer Interesting portrait of an Australia now lost to time.

Red dirt, intense heat, and hordes of flies; the Australian Outback is one of the harshest environments in the world. But this did not stop early settlers from attempting to make a living in the desert in the search for gold and the chance at a better life. Now the mining boom has created specialised camps with fly-in, fly-out workers, leaving once-booming settlements to disappear off the map forever. In this beautifully photographed book, author and award-winning photographer Erin Jordan captures these unique places that have been abandoned and left behind. Erin travels through some of the most remote areas in Australia, uncovering forgotten towns and exploring the stories left behind. Each photo gives us a glimpse into what life was like living in some of the toughest and most remote places in Australia.

Author Bio:

Erin was born in Fremantle, Western Australia, and resides in the beautiful Perth Hills. Her love of photography started at a young age when she was gifted her first camera at ten years old. Since then, her photos have won numerous awards and appeared in The West and Sunday Times. She is passionate about animals and the protection of flora and fauna, particularly in her local community.

Abandoned South Australia: An Arid Journey

By Thoms Shane

Key Sales Points:

- * Beautifully photographed book of abandoned places in country South Australia.
- * Will appeal to anyone with an interest in architecture or history.
- * Award-winning photographer.
- * Interesting portrait of an Australia now lost to time.

The ruins of South Australia are barren, isolated time capsules. Starkly contrasting the states bustling city centre, we inhale these ghostly narratives upon the opening of each creaking door. A diverse, unique and often unexplored region of the 'Great Land Down Under', the visual stories presented here are mere footnotes of South Australia's long and complex history.

Author Bio:

Shane Thoms is a photographer and photojournalist based in Melbourne, Australia. Educated in fine art photography and design via Monash University, Charles Sturt University and the Australian Academy of Design, his work explores the discarded urban space from a cross-cultural perspective. He has visually documented a few exclusion zones inclusive of Chernobyl, Fukushima, and Plymouth. His books include Abandoned Australia, published in 2019.

Abandoned Perth: Memories and Photos of the Lost and Found

Jamet Delphine

In this beautifully photographed book, the author has captured abandoned places in emotive form: places as dark as time; history forgotten in the folds of the subconscious mind; beauty in decay, a presentation of life open to our personal interpretations. Atmospheric scenes unfold before the light of torches, with glass crunching underfoot, complementing the unremitting sound of dripping water. Creative wall art decorations attract attention, bordering the natural and unnatural worlds with a broad range of colours and exuding micro-organisms with compelling effects. The author describes urbexing – the pursuit of images of the abandoned and ruined - as a drug, a way of life as powerful as a state of mind. This is her world – this is Perth.

Abandoned Brisbane: Our Lost Heritage

Millard Jay

Abandoned buildings are a viewfinder into our heritage and often offer a story to tell us, but not everyone will be lucky enough to hear these stories before these buildings are gone forever. It was this line of thinking that grew the author's passion for discovering and exploring abandoned buildings, heritage sites and locations not normally seen by the public eye. With camera in my hand, he set out to find, visit, photograph and document as many of these locations as he could before their stories are lost forever. With over 140 eye-catching images from abandoned places such as eerie old factories, crumbling asylums, untouched country theatres, forgotten homes, all mixed with a small insight into their history, Abandoned Brisbane is a showcase of just some of the amazing locations within a few hours' drive of Brisbane.

Abandoned Melbourne: Lockdown

John Gavin

Abandoned Melbourne presents a collection of photographs of the perennially awarded world's most liveable city rendered empty, abandoned and in Covid lockdown during 2020. Abandoned Melbourne depicts Melbourne vacant, with the CBD's places and spaces, customarily buzzing, rendered motionless and without life. Landscape photographer Gavin John, a long-term resident of Melbourne, turned his camera and his focus onto vistas of a different nature and reveals downtown Melbourne as it has never been witnessed before.

In Crocodile Land

Idriess Ion

"In Crocodile Land" is principally the story of travels by lugger through northern waters and into slimy creeks where the huge crocodiles abound. The author took part in many hunting expeditions and enlightens us on the various methods adopted for catching these fearsome creatures. The party had more than a little success, to the great glee of the blackfellows who accompanied them. We journey next into the country of the buffaloes. Here on sunlit clearings through thickets of pandanus palms the buffaloes were to be found in hundreds. The author describes the scene. "Around its green edges were big red kangaroos cropping the grass while giant jabirus and smaller cranes fished the lagoon edges, buffaloes staring at us solemnly." There is plenty of risk in hunting the buffalo. A man must have a fine horse, intelligent and sure-footed: he must be a perfect shot, for there is only one sure way of killing a buffalo with the first shot—a bullet into the backbone where the hide is thin. Once the shooting starts, the horse must continue his gallop, faster than the buffaloes and alongside them, keeping them going. One stumble and the end are near for horse and rider. Reef Madness

Digging up the dirt on an Australian Myth

By Hunter Ernest

Key Sales Points:

- * First full study on the creation of Lasseter's Last Ride by Ion Idriess, and the actual expeditions to find Lasseter, and the Reef itself.
- * Massive email to Idriess collectors, booksellers.

But in 1931 he was living on his wits as a journeyman journalist and looking for an angle to finish a book about a hyped-up gold prospecting expedition. He found it in sorcery, which he used to infill the gaps between the few facts and fanciful descriptions of lands and peoples he had never seen. Ion Idriess' account of the last months of the life of Harold Bell Lasseter – Lasseter's Last Ride - gave birth to a legend that repeats in dozens of books, films, poems, paintings, podcasts, websites and exhibitions, is memorialised in the names of a highway and a casino and has spawned searches and scams that continue a century on.

Reef Madness exposes how Idriess confected his first successful book and why the story of a failed prospector became a quintessentially Australian myth.

Napoleon Hill's Positive Influence

By Hill Napoleon

Napoleon Hill spent twenty years of his life interviewing the most successful men in America to write the first book on the science of personal achievement. During his studies, he developed seventeen success principles. These teachings explain each of them. In order, they are Definiteness of Purpose, the Master Mind Alliance, Going the Extra Mile, Applied Faith, Self-Discipline and Cosmic Habit Force. Hill often referred to these as the most important of the success principles. Hill and his last wife, Annie Lou, established the Napoleon Hill Foundation 1962, and it continues today to publish his books, videos, audios and lectures. These six lectures were transcribed but never published and only recently found by the Foundation. The Trustees of the Foundation have chosen the title "Napoleon Hill's Positive Influence" for this book because these lectures deal with many of the influences which help people to become successful, and which drove Hill to achieve his own successes. One of Hill's greatest influences was business tycoon Andrew Carnegie, who commissioned him in 1908 to undertake his twenty-year investigation. During his investigation, he discovered that important positive influences on successful people included having self-discipline, learning from adversity, working in harmony with others, selecting "pacemakers", surrounding oneself with positive books and mottos, being guided by Faith and what Hill called "Infinite Intelligence", social and physical heredity, and the law of Cosmic Habit force.

Napoleon Hill's Your Millionaire Mindset

A Practical Guide to Increase Your Personal Wealth

By Green Don

You can build wealth and achieve financial security--but first, you must learn to think like a millionaire. Millionaires are not made by happenstance; amassing riches requires rigorous planning and decisive action. But the money principles used by the financial elite are not beyond the grasp of the average individual--anyone truly can think and grow rich! This book teaches you both the mindset changes and the money habits required to achieve financial security. Don Green, executive director and CEO of the Napoleon Hill Foundation, leverages his extensive experience in personal investment and the banking industry to share the secrets as to why some individuals succeed financially and others remain in debt, live paycheck to pay check, or fail to build enough wealth to live comfortably in retirement. The stories he relates illustrate the exact methods individuals have used to build their fortunes by spending wisely, saving consistently, investing intelligently, boosting their income, and serving others. Green draws on Napoleon Hill's timeless success principles to present a simple formula for wealth-building--from transforming your mindset for success to understanding and utilizing the different savings and investment vehicles. Each chapter includes simple action steps to take to create your millionaire master plan. This is the financial primer you need to take control of your money and make it serve your definite major purpose in life.

The Extraordinary Gift of Being Ordinary

Finding Happiness Right Where You Are

By Siegel Ronald D.

"Did I sound stupid?" "Should I have sent that email?" "How do I look?" Many of us spend a lot of time feeling self-conscious and comparing ourselves to others. Why do we judge ourselves so relentlessly? Why do we strive so hard to be special or successful, or to avoid feeling rejected?

When psychologist and mindfulness expert Dr. Ronald Siegel realized that he, as well as most of his clients, was caught in a cycle of endless self-evaluation, he decided to do something about it. In this engaging, empowering guide, he sheds light on this very human habit--and explains how to break it.

Through illuminating exercises drawn from both contemporary science and ancient traditions, along with moving, often funny stories, Dr. Siegel invites readers to stop obsessing so much about how they measure up.

Instead, by accepting the extraordinary gift of being ordinary, we can build stronger connections with others, get more joy out of life, and taste the wonderful freedom of everything no longer being all about us.

Author Bio:

Ronald D. Siegel, PsyD, is Assistant Professor of Psychology, part time, at Harvard Medical School, where he has taught since the early 1980s. He is a long time student of mindfulness meditation and is a faculty and board member at the Institute for Meditation and Psychotherapy. Dr. Siegel teaches internationally about the application of mindfulness practices in psychotherapy and other fields, and maintains a private practice in Lincoln, Massachusetts. His books include The Extraordinary Gift of Being Ordinary and The Mindfulness Solution, for general readers, as well as several acclaimed works for professionals.

The Divine Art of Dying 2/e

Speerstra Karen

The Divine Art of Dying explores the time when individuals facing a life-limiting illness make critical decisions about how they will live until they die. Authors Karen Speerstra and Herbert Anderson teamed up to write this book shortly before Speerstra's death. Their hope was that this book would be a gift to help people who are irreversibly ill (and their friends and family) navigate the perilous journey to the point at which one decides to discontinue curative treatment and turn toward death. The book includes reflections from Speerstra's hospice journal and essays written jointly by Speerstra and Anderson on themes that include learning to wait, letting go, giving gifts, and telling stories. Karen's experiential and moving reflections are woven together with Anderson's pastoral insights gleaned from years of teaching, writing, and lecturing on death, dying, and bereavement, as well as practicing hospital chaplaincy and pastoral care.

Untimely Christianity

Edwards Michael

Christianity is always untimely, always foreign to our beliefs and contrary to our desires. It was untimely in Jerusalem, Athens, and Rome when Jesus and his early followers were killed. It is just as untimely now. But we have become deaf to its otherness, to the disruptive strangeness of Christian faith. If we are to hear it again, we must traverse the distance between our comfortable and overly conceptual Christianity and the true Christianity that "turns the whole world upside down." In Untimely Christianity, acclaimed poet and literary scholar Michael Edwards calls for a countercultural Christianity that recovers the Bible's radical otherness and renews our habits of attention to its message—to its revelation of a God who is not merely a set of doctrines but a person, someone we can know. Edwards's work is an eloquent, prophetic effort to recapture the revolutionary power of the Bible to transform the way humans view the world and how they live in it.

After Auschwitz

Selg Peter

Since 2009, Peter Selg, along with Polish historians, has led seminars on medical ethics at the Auschwitz-Birkenau memorial for students at Witten / Herdecke University, Germany. This book was created following a public event in 2019 that investigated the "lessons of Auschwitz" for the practice of medicine in society today and in the future. As well as commemorating the individual victims, the Auschwitz event focused on the role of German physicians in the Nazi regime. In this book, Dr. Selg's discussions go far beyond the historical events of the 1930s and '40s. Countering the legacy of Auschwitz-Birkenau and the inhumane medical practices of that time, he presents us with ways to advance forms of medicine today that encourage the most compassionate treatment of one another as human beings. "Today, as always in times of crisis, there are symptoms of a return, if not to Nazism, then to a right-wing regime that is strong, with a firm, streamlined order." — Primo Levi

Australia's Incredible Insects

By Thurman Jessa

Key Sales Points:

- * Reveals the function and inner workings of the insect world, providing in-depth technical understanding of insects and their anatomy.

- * Features species from all around the world.

Publicity:

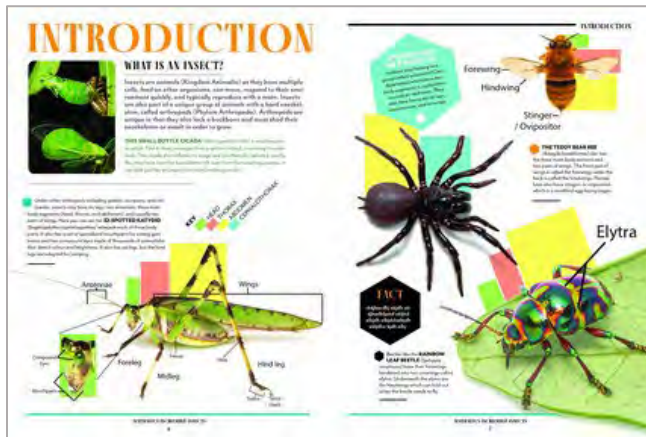

- * Advertising on Australian Geographic print and digital platforms.

- * Promotion on AG website.

- * Advertising in AG journal.

Explore modern Australian insects, non-insect hexapods and life cycles.

Their importance of insects to the ecosystems of our world, and to our own survival, cannot be overstated.

But it can be challenging to relate to them as fellow living beings when their body's structure and function are so dramatically different from our own.

This guide will demystify the way that insects live, from the fine detail of their internal processes to the way they co-exist with all other forms of life.

How to Train Your Pet Brain

By Buchet Nelly

Age Range: from c 3 years

Your brain is like a pet in need of training. By you.

How does it feel to smile, or to stick out your bottom lip?
With heart and humor,

How to Train Your Pet Brain invites kids to explore how their bodies and minds work together to process emotions.

Told from the perspective of a child, this unexpectedly funny take on the tricky topic of mental health follows two characters learning to train their pet brains.

Light-hearted illustrations paired with grounded language help kids understand why their brain does what it does, teaches that big feelings are okay, and guides kids through a simple practice to help them feel calm.

God Made All Your Feelings

By Flinn Amanda

Age Range: from c 5 years

God made me and God made you. God made our minds and our feelings, too!

We all have lots and lots of feelings.

For young children, feelings can be overwhelming and difficult to manage.

This sweet picture book explores the wide variety of emotions kids experience--happiness, sadness, anger, fear, and others--and gently reassures them that it is okay to feel these feelings and that God is with us through all the ups and downs.

The book affirms young children with the message that all our emotions help us grow and that no matter how we are feeling, God loves us.

Mama

A World of Mothers and Motherhood

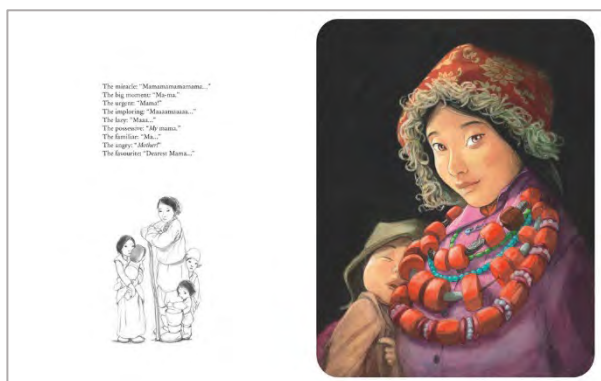

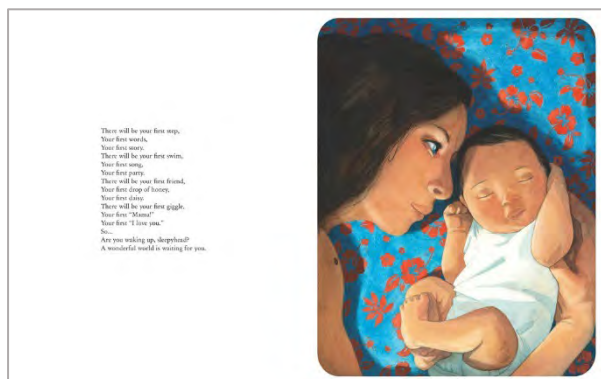

By Delforge Helene

Powerful, emotive, unforgettable -- Mama speaks to all mothers in the international language of love.

This is a stunning collection of vivid portraits and intimate reflections on motherhood from around the globe. Mama uniquely portrays the emotions and experiences that unite mothers from different times and diverse cultures.

Twenty-one striking watercolour portraits and lively pencil sketches by acclaimed artist Quentin Greban are paired with Helene Delforge's lyrical words to create a thought-provoking celebration of motherhood in all its complexity: the satisfaction and the sadness, the frustration and the fun -- and, always, the love.

This moving and joyful book is a perfect gift for mamas everywhere.

Author Bio:

Helene Delforge is a journalist, writer, mother and stepmother. She studied languages and literature and has been a journalist for over 20 years. At home in her native Brussels, Helene writes with a cat asleep in her desk drawer. Mama is Helene's first book and was co-created with her brother-in-law, illustrator and artist Quentin Greban.

Quentin Greban is a world-renowned illustrator and artist. He studied illustration at the Saint Luc Institute in Brussels, Belgium, and since 1999 has published more than forty-five children's books. Quentin is the recipient of a Saint-Exupery award and his books have been translated all over the world. He works from a studio at home in his native Brussels, surrounded by drawings of his children and listening to his dog snoring.

Oran the Curious Otter

Rickards Lynne

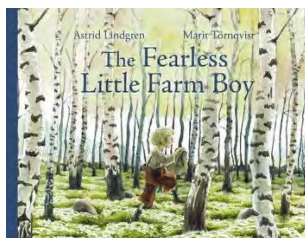

Oran the curious otter pup is visiting the big sea for the very first time. When exploring underwater he meets Camille the seal who shows him the wonders of the sea, and what to watch out for! But when Camille's in danger, can Oran rescue his new friend? Written in Lynne Rickards' signature rhyme, this is a charming tale of friendship and courage with a gentle message about ocean conservation. Abigail Hookham's dynamic illustrations of Scottish sea life and charming seascapes are full of detail and character. From the author of best-selling Skye the Puffling and Rowan the Red Squirrel, Oran the Curious Otter is a fun and affectionate celebration of Scotland's coast and its creatures.

The Fearless Little Farm Boy

Lindgren Astrid

One beautiful spring day in Sweden, Goran the bull charges furiously out of his stall and into the farmyard. People gather from miles around to see the angry bull, but no one can calm him down. Then Karl, the farm boy, has a brave idea. Can the little boy save the day? A charming, traditional story from Astrid Lindgren, bestselling author of Pippi Longstocking, with illustrations from acclaimed Swedish artist Marit Toernqvist. Her delicate depictions of wooden houses, characterful villagers and silver birch trees wonderfully evoke the spirit of a Swedish farm from long ago.

The Sky Beneath the Stone

Mullarky Alex

Thirteen-year-old Ivy North is an adventurer. She can pitch a tent in four minutes flat, knows the local landscape like the back of her hand, and she's an expert map reader. There's just one problem. She's afraid to go outside. But when her little brother is transformed into a kestrel by a powerful sorcerer, Ivy is the only one who can rescue him. Following him through a mysterious hole in the garden wall, she emerges in Underfell -- an enchanted realm that seems like the Lake District she knows but is dangerously different. Battling her dread of being out in the open, Ivy must gather all her courage to navigate a path across this extraordinary world, where powerful fairies with birds' wings fly through purple skies and a ghostly spectre haunts her every step. With the help of an unexpected new friend, can Ivy break the spell -- before her brother becomes a bird forever? An immersive and beautifully written fantasy adventure, The Sky Beneath the Stone is a soaring journey of family, friendship, overcoming fear -- and realising that we are never as lost as we think we are.

There's a Hole in my Bagpipes, Wee Hamish, Wee Hamish

McLelland Kate

'There's a hole in my bagpipes, wee Hamish, wee Hamish, There's a hole in my bagpipes, wee Hamish, a hole! Then stitch it wee Lachie, wee Lachie, wee Lachie, Then stitch it wee Lachie, wee Lachie, stitch it! With what shall I stitch it? wee Hamish, wee Hamish, With what shall I stitch it? wee Hamish, with what?' A surreal and hilarious Scottish twist on a much-loved rhyme. Wee Hamish tries to solve his bagpiping friend's difficulties with ever-more brilliantly bizarre solutions involving a hungry stag, prickly thistles, lumpy porridge, a dirty broadsword, a nervous red squirrel and a sleepy Highland cow. Kate McLelland, illustrator of best-selling picture book There was a Wee Lassie Who Swallowed a Midgie, brings a Highland castle and its cast of Scottish characters and animals to life in her bold and colourful style. This quirky and fun picture book, created in Scotland, is a unique adaptation of the classic rhyme There's a Hole in my Bucket. Children from Scotland and beyond will love to sing along!

Home

Lippert Tonya

In the brown house, Claire and Wes were home. But home turned to nowhere and nowhere turned to anywhere. Then somewhere finally came, and finally, always. This lyrical story is timely and thoughtful, depicting the life of two children thrust into homelessness and uncertain housing situations as they move out of their house, to a motel, to a shelter, and finally another more permanent home. Throughout, the duo is challenged by uncomfortable new places and inquiries from strangers, but ultimately, never lose their optimism or determination. They have each other, no matter at home, nowhere, anywhere, or somewhere-always. Includes a poignant Reader's Note on how homelessness affects children and what we can do to help.

All Birds Have Anxiety

Hoopmann Kathy

Life as a bird can be stressful! From worrying about airplanes, windows, and getting enough worms to eat, birds can be anxious beings. Through a light-touch, quizzical depiction of bird behaviour, All Birds Have Anxiety uses colourful images and astute explanations to explore with gentle humour what it means to live with anxiety day-to-day, and how to begin to deal with it. Following the style of the bestselling All Cats Have Asperger Syndrome and All Dogs Have ADHD, wonderful colour photographs express the complex and difficult ideas related to anxiety disorder in an easy-to-understand way. This simple yet profound book validates the deeper everyday experiences of anxiety, provides an empathic understanding of the many symptoms associated with anxiety, and offers compassionate suggestions for change. The combination of understanding and gentle humour make this the ideal introduction to anxiety disorder for those diagnosed with this condition, their family and friends and those generally interested in understanding anxiety.

The Autism and Neurodiversity Self Advocacy Handbook

Developing the Skills to Determine Your Own Future

By Barb Cook and Yenn Purkis

AUS AUTHORS

Being autistic, you might come across more challenges than others around you, such as dealing with ableism, discrimination in employment or difficulties in your relationships. Learning to successfully self-advocate will help you to build confidence, strengthen your relationships and ensure your needs are met.

Written by two autistic activists, this book will give you the tools and strategies to advocate for yourself in any situation. It covers specific scenarios including work, school, and family and relationships, as well as looking at advocacy for the wider community, whether that's through social media, presentations or writing. Additionally, the book provides advice on building independence, developing your skills, standing up for others and resolving conflict.

The authors also explore the overall impact of self-advocacy in all areas of your life, building a sense of confidence, resilience and control. Drawing on the authors extensive experience, this book will help you to successfully prioritise your needs and rights, challenge what is unfair or unjust and make your voice heard.

The Monster Book of Feelings

Taylor Amie

This book is designed to help children to understand and articulate the emotions they might experience - feelings of anxiety and worry, pride, joy and excitement, sadness, anger and jealousy - and provides simple strategies for managing their mental health. Full of monster-themed stories, activities and downloadable worksheets, it is ideal to use individually or in group settings with ages 5-9. Children will meet characters like Thomas, the big purple monster who has a heavy backpack full of his worries, and Geronimo, who inconveniently creates small floods with his tears all around Icicle Island. The second part of the book is a detailed guide for adults with explanations of key concepts, support for delivering the activities, suggested discussion points and drama activities to consolidate learning.

A Perfectionist's Guide to Not Being Perfect

Zucker Bonnie

It's hard for teens to be happy when they've created a very narrow window of what defines success. The goal of this helpful book is to encourage teens to maintain their desire to achieve without striving to always be perfect and to appreciate and love who they are just as they are, not for what they do or accomplish. Finding a balance between work and play is key. Challenging perfectionism is about the pursuit of happiness. Topics covered include: * What is Perfectionism & Why Change it? * Treating Perfectionism with Cognitive-behavioral therapy (CBT): * Mastering Self-Care: Relaxation & Meditation, * Challenging Perfectionistic Thinking: The Path to Freedom Part 1, * Decision-Making, Flexibility, & Comfort Zones, * Challenging Perfectionistic Behavior: The Path to Freedom, Part 2, * Picture Perfect: Social Media & Body Image Making Mistakes, Failing & Life Lessons, * Stress Management & Balanced Living.
