Mr Todd's Marvel

How one man telegraphed Australia to the modern world

By Adam Courtenay

Key Sales Points:

- *Draws from many historical documents in the keeping of the Todd Family.
- * Written by popular Australia history writer Adam Courtenay.
- * Strong push for print media reviews.
- * EDM's to historical societies/members.
- * Posters available on request.

In 1855 talented astronomer and scientist Charles Todd had a dream to build a telegraph line across Australia to connect it to the world. This dream was a bold one and he would have to wait for technological advances to catch up with his ideas.

By 1870, however, Singapore and Indonesia were joined to the world's growing telegraph network, and it was Australia's turn.

Todd and his men would have to erect thousands of telegraph poles across the entire expanse of the country, from Adelaide to the northern coast - one pole every 80 metres - across land that was relentlessly inhospitable and largely unknown to them.

They overcame every obstacle and, as well as reducing the transmission of information to the country from months to hours, revealed the splendour of the continent's interior to its rapidly growing population. This is their story.

Author Bio:

Adam Courtenay is a Sydney-based writer and journalist who has had a long career in the UK and Australia, writing for papers such as the Financial Times, the Sydney Morning Herald, and the Australian Financial Review. He is the author of the popular narrative history books The Ship that Never Was, The Ghost and the Bounty Hunter, and Three Sheets to the Wind (ABC Books). He is the son of iconic Australian writer Bryce Courtenay.

Try making a raft, camping, cooking damper, whipping up delicious ice cream in a bag or challenging yourself to climb higher, walk further and explore your way through Australia’s incredible landscapes.

Light enough to tuck into a bag for a holiday, this book is a must-have for every fun-loving family.

Author Bio:

Scouts: Scouts has been around for over 100 years, when it was first founded in the UK in 1907. Since then, Scouting has evolved into a worldwide movement of young people and adult volunteers and is welcoming of all genders. Scouting provides young people, guided by adult volunteers, the opportunities to participate in programs, events, activities, and projects that contribute to their growth as active citizens. Over the course of the program, they provide increasing opportunities for their members to take the initiative with ‘youth leading, adult supporting’ one of their fundamental goals. They provide an experience that is all about connecting with the outdoors; building new and existing friendships; learning new skills; and helping create a better world.

Scouts South Australia: Scouts SA is part of a global movement with a common purpose to contribute to the development of young people by helping them learn and grow, and to play a constructive role in a global society. The purpose of the Scout Movement is to contribute to the education of young people in achieving their full physical, intellectual, emotional, social, and spiritual potentials as individuals, as responsible citizens and as members of their local, national, and international communities.

The Hunter & The Gatherer
Cooking And Provisioning For Sailing Adventures

By Catherine Lawson, David Bristow

Key Sales Points:

- * A guide for modern sailors written by authors who've lived aboard their yacht for over two decades...
* Over 160 pescatarian and vegetarian recipes with full-colour food and lifestyle imagery throughout.
* In-depth guide to stocking and provisioning your boat for long-term, faraway adventures...
* The book will launch with a large but focussed social-media and influencer marketing campaign...

Cruising is much more than just sailing. It's about travel, exploring empty shores and plunging into new cultures. It's about taking time for your passions and living in harmony with the watery world that buoys, sustains, and changes you.

Dave, the hunter; Catherine, the gatherer; and their little fish Maya, have spent the last two decades afloat in the most remote corners of our planet. They can't imagine a better way to live and sate their adventurous spirits than cruising the world on their catamaran Wild One.

More than twenty years in the making, this book is for ocean-loving foodies striving for better health, greater self-sufficiency, and a tiny footprint on the sea.

This is food for tiny galleys, long passages and perfect beach sunsets, and those times when food stocks might be low, but the fish are biting.

This is a guide for anyone who wants to hunt and gather rather than collect and accumulate.

Is This The End of Agility?

By Susan Abishara

Key Sales Points:

- * Agility is a lucrative market for people working in the industry.
- * Written in a humorous fashion, this book is engaging and insightful, comparing an organisation’s journey of health, performance, and agility to that of a person.
- * As a woman in technology herself, Susan is donating 100% of all profits will go to charities supporting women in technology. * Championing female representation in male dominated technology industries, taking on a role on gender diversity at all levels, determined to be a positive catalyst in market.

Despite providing huge benefits for many organisations over the years, agile is now as divisive a topic as religion and politics. Bringing it up in conversation will immediately divide the room. Who would have thought a term coined over 20 years ago by a bunch of developers would have such an impact? We should not be afraid of this question. Agile is evidence-based, which means both negative and positive findings need to be incorporated for success. With 63% of organisations currently transitioning to agile, the desire for organisational agility and speed to market is real. And the digital age has accelerated change massively. It is predicted that over 50% of existing companies will be replaced within the next 10 years. This thought-provoking book, Susan Abishara will help you finally understand agile and how it can help your organisation. The impact this will have on your business will be extraordinary.

Leading the Customer-Led Revolution A Simple + Powerful Roadmap To Success

By Sueanne Carr, Peter Turner

Key Sales Points:

- * This book tackles the topic from an organisational competence perspective.
- * It provides a framework through which business leaders can view their organisation, with an outside-in lens.
- * It’s about transforming the organisation at its core and teaching the fundamentals of why things go wrong and the changes you can make to stop it happening in the future.
- * It’s practical and case-study driven, not just theory.

Now, more than ever, customers are the ultimate reason organisations exist. But many leaders and their organisations are not ready for the next era of business: the Customer-Led Revolution. ‘The Customer-Led Revolution’ is leading the charge for CEOs, CCOs and business leaders tasked with making their organisation more customer-led. The old ways of traditional customer service no longer work, with customers demanding more and more of the businesses who serve them.

This book provides a clear roadmap for business leaders taking them through the challenges, pushback and hurdles that exist when creating a truly customer-led organisation. ‘The Customer-Led Revolution’ is the answer for those business leaders who want to create a truly customer-led organisation, but don’t quite know how or where to start.

Pivot to Purpose
Leaving the Toxic Hustle Culture Behind

By Kristen Boss

Leave the hustle culture behind for good--and learn to create a life and business filled with purpose, impact, and joy. You have seen the cute "hustle" merchandise. The T-shirts. The mugs. The daily planners. There seems to be gold-lettered swag everywhere telling you to do more, be more, and "hustle harder." Hustle has become an everyday word for the modern person who wants more out of life. But as appealing as it is to today's entrepreneurs and professionals, it inevitably leads to burnout and resentment. In Pivot to Purpose, Kristen invites you into the journey of exchanging the hustle cycle for a heart posture of abundance and service. She tackles why the hustle culture is one of the most toxic and detrimental ideologies that is preached today and debunks the myth that it's the only way to achieve success.

Someone's Daughter

In Search of Justice for Jane Doe

By Silvia Pettem

In 1954, two college students were hiking along a creek outside of Boulder, Colorado, when they stumbled upon the body of a murdered young woman.

Who was this woman? What had happened to her?

The initial investigation turned up nothing, and the girl was buried in a local cemetery with a gravestone that read, "Jane Doe, April 1954, Age About 20 Years."

Decades later, historian Silvia Pettem formed a partnership with law enforcement and forensic experts and set in motion the events that led to Jane Doe's exhumation and eventual identification, as well as the identity of her probable killer.

The 2023 paperback edition includes an Epilogue--with updated information on how the mystery finally was solved.

The Fourth Sister

By Laura Scott

Debut collection So Many Rooms won the Seamus Heaney First Collection Prize 2020 and the East Anglian Book Award for Poetry 2020. This highly anticipated second collection tells stories, many of them with powerful historical resonance, drawing on lived experience, relationships, pain, and love. Many of the poems have the intimate feel of letters intercepted, things overheard, profoundly human and moving, wry and revealing. Continuing her engagement with Chekov, The Fourth Sister includes a long poem, 'why are you silent?', made from letters between Chekhov and the actress Olga Knipper, his wife and 'first lady', who died aged 90 in 1959.

Love and F**k Poems
Anniversary Edition

By Koraly Dimitriadis

Sexually repressed, separated Greek Girl on a rampage. There's no love here just f--ks. But is she f--king him or f--king herself?

Initially a self-published zine, which sold out repeatedly, Love and F--k Poems became a revamped Deluxe Edition book, and went on to be an Australian poetry bestseller, also translated into Greek.

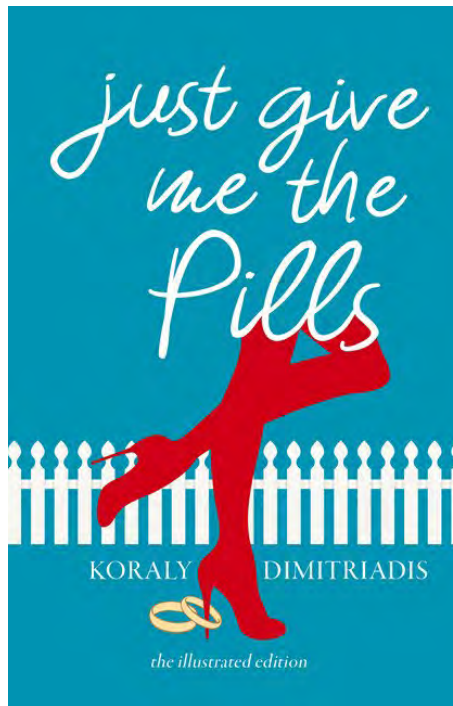

Love and F--k Poems continues to shock, captivate, and enthrall with this special ten-year anniversary edition, which incorporates Koraly's original zine drawings and one extra poem.

A trailblazing story told through poetry of migrant culture, divorce, repression, dating, relationships, love, and the maddening scurry to find the sexual self. "I am so obsessed with Koraly. Her work is disarming, emotionally fearless and she sounds like nobody else alive. I will read her poetry forever." — Hera Lindsay Bird, bestselling poet, Pamper Me to Hell and Back

Just Give Me The Pills
The Illustrated Edition

By Koraly Dimitriadis, Rosie G.

In a large, white-picket dream, a married mother selfishly cries. She has everything she ever wanted – a husband, a house, a business degree, a baby – she is at the pinnacle of the migrant dream. Perhaps she needs to return to her medication, the pills she stopped taking to become pregnant. She was taking them for six years. She wasn't allowed to move out of home, so she married at twenty-two. Now she is thirty, and it's as if she is looking at her life for the very first time. She is starting to see things. The creativity she had kept buried inside all her life birthed out with her daughter, and now her words are taking on a life of their own. This special illustrated edition includes drawings by Koraly's daughter. Exploring the challenges of leaving a marriage, divorce, co-parenting, single motherhood, Just Give Me The Pills is a story told through poetry of a woman's liberation from the chains of migrant culture and repression, and the terror of realising all the choices you've ever made are those you were expected to make, and you have no idea who you really are. It's a story of being silenced, of reclaiming your voice, rebuilding, and finding one's true self.

The Red Centre

By H.H. Finlayson

Key Sales Points:

- * First published in 1935, long out of print.
- * New 10th edition, a classic of Australian writing on the environment, an exquisite and poignant account of a now-lost nature.
- * An enduring blueprint for understanding our country.

Finlayson was the last to collect and record many of these mammal species: he witnessed this loss. But in his many scientific papers, and in The Red Centre, he also foretold it, explained it, and mourned it. The environment which moulded the most remarkable fauna in the world is beset on all sides by influences which are reducing it to a medley of semi-artificial environments, in which the original plan is lost and the outcome of which no man may predict. From more than 80 years ago, these words still haunt; and they still describe the ongoing loss of Australian nature – due to what we have done to this country. It is a classic of Australian writing on the environment, an exquisite and poignant account of a now-lost nature, an enduring blueprint for understanding our country.

Compassion for Couples
Building the Skills of Loving Connection

By Michelle Becker

Life can be challenging--especially our relationships. We all want to feel more connected to our partners. But where do we start? According to marriage and family therapist Michelle Becker, the answer is with us. By learning to practice self-compassion, we are better able to respond to our partners with love and acceptance--even when they inevitably cannot meet our every need. In this caring and insightful guide, Becker shows readers how to escape "reactivity mode" and increase intimacy using techniques from her renowned Compassion for Couples program. Instead of defaulting to annoyance, disappointment, or detachment, readers learn mindfulness, compassion, and other skills that bring them closer and enrich their lives together.

For happy couples looking to strengthen their relationship, or those facing obstacles, Becker leads the way to greater trust, mutual understanding, and a renewed sense of warmth. The companion website provides audio downloads for the guided meditation practices.

Sounds Fake But Okay

By Sarah Costello, Kayla Kaszyca

Key Sales Points:

* An empowering guide to help aspec people become more confident in their identities and understand their relationships, written by the hosts of the #1 podcast on asexuality.

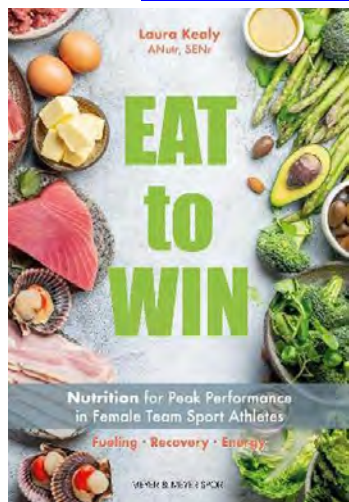

Somehow, over time, we forgot that the rituals behind dating and sex were constructs made up by human beings and eventually, they became hard and fast rules that society imposed on us all. True Love. Third Wheels. Dick pics. 'Dying alone'. Who decided this was normal? Sarah and Kayla invite you to put on your purple aspec glasses - and rethink everything you thought you knew about society, friendship, sex, romance and more. Drawing on their personal stories, and those of aspec friends all over the world, prepare to explore your micro labels, investigate different models of partnership, delve into the intersection of gender norms and compulsory sexuality and reconsider the meaning of sex - when allosexual attraction is out of the equation. Spanning the whole range of relationships we have in our lives, this book asks you to let your imagination roam, and think again what human connection really is.

Being the Change
A Guide for Advocates and Activists on Staying Healthy, Inspired and Driven

By Dara G. Friedman-Wheeler, Jamie Sue Bodenlos

Being the Change is written for activists who work in organizations with social missions, and those who are involved in social change outside of their jobs. It provides empirically supported strategies from cognitive behavior therapies and other psychological interventions for coping with the challenges of difficult, yet meaningful work. Although therapy can often help alleviate anxiety or depression, activists can also apply therapy-based strategies as part of their self-care.

This book is a practical guide that helps readers maintain and enhance their ability to be effective agents of change. Readers will learn how to clarify their values, identify their strengths, manage their emotions and relationships, and incorporate self-care as part of their personal and professional development. A rich catalogue of case examples, exercises, and actionable ideas make this book a comprehensive toolkit for people who want to take their social engagement to the next level in a healthy and productive way.

Black, Brilliant and Dyslexic
Neurodivergent Heroes Tell their Stories

By Marcia Brissett-Bailey

My book showcases positive role models for black and people within our wider dyslexic community and society, to inspire current and future generations. This is a raw, honest, and enlightening collection of experiences, across the black and dyslexic community, giving an intersectional perspective on topics including the education system, the workplace, daily life and entrepreneurship. These stories highlight the challenges, progress, successes, and contributions of the black and dyslexic community, helping others to find their voice, feel empowered and be proud of their differences. It charts journeys from early childhood through to adulthood and, despite the lack of representation within the public arena, how black dyslexic people of all ages are changing the world. Raising awareness, breaking silences, and tackling the stigma around dyslexia and the difficulties stemming from a lack of support. Contributors share how they tackled their unique adversities and provide practical tips for others to live proudly at the intersection of blackness and dyslexia.

To Distant Shores

By William C. Hammond

The decades after the War of 1812 were years of introspection for the fledgling American republic. Having twice prevailed against the military might of Great Britain, there was now no power on Earth ready, willing, and able to take on the United States.

As America entered the 1840s and began expanding its dominion over North America and opening lucrative overseas markets in Asia and elsewhere, all that was needed to secure its place in the world was an alliance with a like-minded nation with the naval resources to guarantee the integrity of global trade routes and the financial rewards accruing to both parties of such an alliance.

Captain Richard Cutler commands the new United States steam frigate Suwannee on a mission to the South Seas to the distant shores of New Zealand.

Tolkien's Hidden Pictures
Anthroposophy and the Enchantment in Middle Earth

By Mark McGivern

J.R.R Tolkien's Lord of the Rings trilogy is not only a seemingly inexhaustible source of wonder and excitement, but also a profound tale, relevant to our times and to the vital question: what is it to be a human being? Why have these books proved so captivating since their publication, discovered anew by each generation? Is there a deeper aspect to the stories that speaks directly to something within us? Many scholars and commentators have asked these or similar questions, delving into his unique use of language, his deep knowledge of the aesthetics of story within the heritage of mythic storytelling, and his ability to weave together myriad themes. However, few if any have approached the deeper aspects of Tolkien's work with the spiritual esoteric insights of Rudolf Steiner's anthroposophy as their basis.

The Marian Way of Heart Knowledge
From Mary through St. John's Gospel to Rudolf Steiner's Philosophy of Freedom

By Neill Reilly

"In the pursuit of an understanding of Mary that is undertaken in this book, it is clear that we are dealing with events beyond the reach of our normal faculties. Without effort on our part and help of some kind, Mary remains one more unsolvable mystery. In the activity of our striving to be open and reverent in our devoted pursuit of knowledge of these mysteries, we begin to tread the path of the Marian Way of Heart Knowledge." -- from the Foreword
The Marian Way of Heart Knowledge guides the reader into and through the mystery of Mary as she appears in the New Testament, especially her composure and openness to life --- both its gifts and its sorrows. Reilly argues that these holy mysteries are not allegory, poetry, or simple fantasy.

Jack's Best Day Ever

By Gabrielle Bassett, Annabelle Hale

Key Sales Points:

- * Depicts children with unique disabilities and neurodiversity, important elements of diversity and inclusion covered in the Australian Curriculum.
- * Fosters empathy, understanding and respect, key issues explored in schools.
- * Taps into parents' key concerns about fussy eating and gives them a fun way to address it.

Jack loves anything that zooms, digs, and races.

But Jack doesn't like change and he only ever wants to eat peanut butter sandwiches!

This heart-warming, hilarious story off friendship explores how it feels to be neurodivergent and introduces children to the idea that there is no one-size-fits all way to be human.

Author Bio:

Gabrielle is a mum of two and works in an Australian University. In her role she does a lot of disability, diversity and inclusion advocacy work with staff and students. Jack, the boy in the story Jack is based upon her son.

"At the core of Gabrielle's vivid and beautifully written tale is the blossoming friendship between two children, each with their own unique disability and neurodiversity. They observe each other's preferences and ways of experiencing the world around them without judgement, with an open heart and a sense of adventure." - Lenny De Vries (Disability & Neurodiversity Program Lead).

Gunner

By Kathryn Berryman, Susan Boyle

Key Sales Points:

- * Based on the true story of Gunner, a stray dog with a special talent.
- * A story of survival and belonging, told from a different perspective (Gunner's).
- * The story commemorates the 80th Anniversary of the bombing of Darwin.
- * The bombing of Darwin is included in the Australian History School Curriculum.
- * Story suitable for readers 10 years +

A black and white puppy starts his day like any other day, playing at the edge of an airfield. It is a clear and bright Darwin morning. A perfect day to explore. But this is no ordinary day. It is the most important day of his life. The day he discovers a special talent. How will he use this talent to help others? The inspiration for this story is based on actual events.

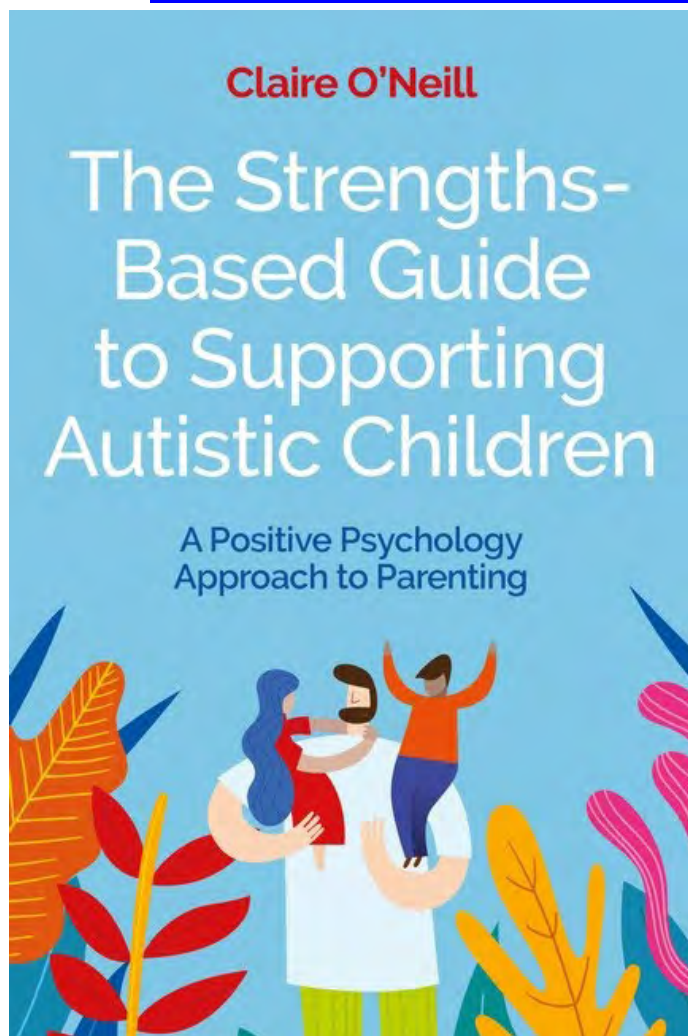

With a backdrop of the bombing of Darwin during World War II, Gunner is just another stray dog wandering on the Royal Australian Air Force base looking for scraps of food. The first wave of bombings leads to a traumatic event in the young dog's life, and he is rescued by personnel from No. 2 Squadron. Gunner later discovers a unique talent that helps save many lives, making him an invaluable asset to the R.A.A.F.

The Strengths-Based Guide to Supporting Autistic Children

A Positive Psychology Approach to Parenting

Author Bio:

Claire has taught autistic pupils for over 20 years. She has designed and facilitated Positive Psychology courses for teachers and parents of autistic children. She is also an accredited coach and uses positive psychology approaches in her coaching practice. Claire is autistic and lives with her autistic husband and their two autistic children.

The Strengths-Based Guide to Supporting Autistic Children

A Positive Psychology Approach to Parenting

By Claire O'Neill

Key Sales Points:

* A guide to identifying and developing your autistic child's unique strengths, supporting their growth, wellbeing, and happiness.

'Being strength-aware has brought many moments of joy to our family life. It is this potential for growth and joy that I now want to share in this book'.

This flexible, dip-in-dip-out guide will introduce you to the strengths-based approach that is helping autistic children and their families to thrive.

By focusing on how to identify, develop and use your child's strengths to support them throughout childhood and into adolescence, this transformative approach is here to show you and your child that their unique character-strengths can empower them and shape their future.

Claire O'Neill combines her personal experience as an autistic person and mother to autistic children with her expert knowledge as a professional working with autistic young people to demonstrate the value of a strengths-based approach.

With step-by-step instructions on how parents and teachers can incorporate this approach easily into family and school life, Claire also offers a variety of specific tips, tricks, and engaging activities to provide ongoing support for parents and teachers alike.

Can't Not Won't

A Story About A Child Who Couldn't Go To School

By Eliza Fricker, Sue Moon, Tom Vodden

Key Sales Points:

*A fully illustrated, empathetic and wry guide to helping and understanding children who are unable to go to school, written by a parent who has been there and gets it

Eliza Fricker gets it. Her compelling, hard-hitting, and irreverently humorous illustrations follow a family through the early days of school avoidance, the process of accessing support and the challenges of coping in the meantime.

Can't Not Won't illuminates the absurdity and frustrations that often arise when dealing with health, social and educational systems, and will help any parent in the same boat feel seen. This guide acts to communicate these difficult circumstances with others.

Wonderfully relatable, the book also includes written guidance for parents and professionals on what works best when it comes to managing school avoidance.

My Child Told Me They're Trans...What Do I Do?

A Q&A Guide for Parents of Trans Children

By Brynn Tannehill, Amy Cannava

'My child just came out to me as trans: What should I do?' If you are a parent looking for an answer to this question, you have come to the right place. Gathering practical advice and personal experiences from a range of parents, activists and experts, this FAQ book provides answers to the most common questions you will have as a parent of a transgender child. What if they change their minds? How do I make sure my child is safe at school? How do we tell our other children? Sharing their experiences of how they navigated their child's transition to raise a happy and healthy child, the parents in this book will give you the tools you need to support your trans child to thrive, while the experts provide a research-based perspective on supporting trans youth. With answers to everything you need to know - from social transition, mental health, and medical care, through to schools, faith, and your personal feelings as a parent.

Stress Less

A Teen's Guide to a Calm Chill Life

By Michael A. Tompkins

Let's get real. Stress is part of every teen's life - stress of exams, college applications, a big game, difficult teachers, difficult friends, parents who don't always get you, not to mention the dating and social scenes. Stress like this tends to build over time-week after week-and takes a toll on your mental health. But great news! Learning stress-busting skills doesn't take much time at all. Just 20 minutes a day is probably all it takes. The skills in this book are easy to learn and can be practiced anywhere - on the bus, before bed, or during lunch. Once you see that it helps, you'll adjust and be ready bust more stress. And then before you realize it-you've got it!

How to Handle STRESS for Middle School Success

Kid Confident Book 3

By Silvi Guerra, Bonnie Zucker, DeAndra Hodge

Middle school can be stressful. On the outside, you can look like everything is amazing. On the inside, you may worry a lot -- about making decisions, staying on top of your schoolwork, being more independent, making friends, and keeping everyone happy.

And all that is seriously stressing you out.

Want to know the trick to reversing all that stress? Level-up the skills you already have and become the boss of your brain! Inside, you'll find tons of strategies and methods to coach yourself through anything, so stress and worry doesn't get in the way of the things that matter the most to you and being the kid you are, including:

- * Using Chills Hacks to help you calm down when you need it the most.
- * Customizing your own formula for bravery to help you feel courageous throughout middle school.
- * Developing healthy habits when it comes to eating, sleeping, and screen-time that will last.
- * Doing what it takes to have that "can-do" attitude and working towards your goals without giving up, and
- * Controlling how you respond to stress and worry.

How to NAVIGATE Middle School

Kid Confident Book 4

By Anna Pozzatti, Bonnie Massimino, Bonnie Zucker, DeAndra Hodge

Whether you are just starting middle school or getting ready for the next grade, you probably have ideas about what the school year will be like--or should be like.

Maybe you imagine that perfect day in middle school, where you are picked class president, made tons of new friends, or became the captain of the soccer team, or crushed your Spanish vocab test. Or maybe you imagine more a disastrous day...where you can't get your locker open, don't have anywhere to sit in the cafeteria, or trip while walking down the hallway. Or maybe you have heard from a friend or older sibling middle school teachers are strict or you will have 10 hours of homework a night!

Whatever you have heard, it's most likely a combination some truth but a whole lot of drama and exaggeration. This book will help you separate fact from fiction and give you the tools and strategies you will need to find you place and be your best self in middle school. It will help you handle the increasing academic demands of middle school, teach amazing organizational skills and time management, show you what it takes to have grit and grow in amazing ways.
