By Rebecca Sullivan

Key Sales Points:

- * The sequel to A Conscious Home 9781922388889.
- * Beautifully photographed.
- * An easy and stress-free guide to sustainable gardening.
- * Written by Yale University World Fellow, Rebecca Sullivan.

Grow your sustainable gardening skills with expert tips on making the most of your soil and space, companion planting & how to plant vegetables and herbs, must-grow medicinal and food plants, simple composting and mulching, natural pest deterrents and harnessing the power of worm farms, bee hotels and pollination.

Coupled with recipes and crafty or rustic garden party ideas that save you time, money and stress, Rebecca's eco-conscious tips make gardening simple and stress-free.

Author Bio:

Rebecca Sullivan is a Yale University World Fellow, sustainable living advocate, educator, cook, regen farmer and author of ten books. She lives off the grid in a straw bale home on 90 acres of native forest in the Clare Valley of South Australia with her partner Damien and their two sons. She shares her simple ways of living a conscious life via her platform Granny Skills, as well as the business she and Damien co-founded, Warndu. The mission of Warndu is to regenerate culture, community, traditions, health, seas, and soils using Australian native plants and botanicals. This is Rebecca's second collaboration with Australian Geographic, after A Conscious Home.

Olivia: Grace and Gratitude

Her Place Amongst Women in Music

*By Miranda YoungKey Sales Points:

- * The book is a detailed look into Olivia Newton-John's place in the history of women in music and how Australia was important to her success.
- * A chapter-by-chapter peek into her life following the beginnings of her career in music, the founding of the Olivia Newton-John Cancer Wellness and Research Centre and her continual legacy for years to come.
- * The book will also be a celebration of her life and will be in-line with the one-year anniversary of her death.
- * Includes two think pieces by Dr Frederic Kiernan and Dr Kat Nelligan, renowned Melbourne Musicologists whose years of study can reveal why Australians feel so passionately about Olivia, why they connect with her and why her music makes them feel the way it does.

No matter how far she roamed, Olivia always called Australia home. From the UK to Melbourne and all around the world, Grease superstar Olivia Newton-John is one of the most beloved musicals and acting icons in the world.

Grace and Gratitude covers Olivia's journey as a dedicated woman in music who conquered the international entertainment world as well as being a mother, a wife and a relentless charity advocate who fought against the cancer that sadly took her from the world in August of 2022.

With over twenty years of music and film research under her belt, author Miranda Young celebrates Olivia's achievements while also paying tribute to the incredible woman she has become beyond her fame.

With tributes from famous celebrities and public figures and exclusive insights from some of Australia's biggest names in music, Grace and Gratitude is the perfect tribute to an Australian and world-beloved icon.

Miranda Young is a passionate music lover, and now a serious admirer of Olivia Newton John, joining the legions of fans who are hopelessly devoted to her. She is a Melbourne music writer and researcher who was lucky enough to have worked with Molly Meldrum for over 25 years, and with the great man Michael Gudsinki at Mushroom Records' White Label. Miranda started off writing for Inpress street mag in the 90's and ended up co-owner with her husband of iconic rock and roll venues Cherry Bar and late nightclub Yah Yahs. Miranda spent some happy days getting her BA Hons Melb Uni, and master's Prelim in Russian Literature at Mon Uni. She is an unrepentant New Romantic music fan who still has a poster of Phil Oakey from Human League and Rob Smith from The Cure on her study wall. She is married to Melbourne first Night Mayor James Young with three magnificent sons.

If you are serious about fulfilling your dreams, then this goals journal is for you!

Author Bio:

Michelle Lee encompasses the spirit of adventure and values her freedom—above all else. Twelve years in corporate banking and an end to a long-term relationship were the impetus to Michelle giving up her career, along with society's expectations, and turn to a life of adventure. Trekking the 100km Kokoda trail in 2012 sparked Michelle's love for extreme adventures requiring uttermost physical fitness, mental resilience, and self-discipline. Michelle holds the world record for the fastest woman to row one million metres on a Concept 2 rowing machine and is Australia's first woman to row any ocean solo. She was awarded The Australian Geographic's Adventurer of the year in 2019 for her 68-day solo, unassisted row across the Atlantic Ocean, and is regularly invited to share her story to inspire others to challenge their purpose and untapped potential. Michelle continues to push her boundaries, setting ever greater new challenges to satisfy her curiosity to her full potential. Michelle's first book, Alone, details her extraordinary journey as the first Australian woman to solo row the Atlantic Ocean.

Adventures in Climate Science

Scientists' tales from the frontiers of climate change

Edited by Wendy Bruere,

Foreword by Karl Kruszelnicki

Key Sales Points:

- * Fifteen authors paint evocative pictures of working in some of the world's most remote and remarkable places.
- * Dr. Karl is a prominent Australian science communicator on radio and TV. He is also the Julius Sumner Fellow in the Science Foundation for Physics, at the School of Physics, Sydney University.
- * Combines science with story-telling—and a good dose of adventure.
- * Of particular interest to high school and undergraduate students considering a career in climate science.

Publicity:

- * Social media and PR campaign driven by multiple prominent author-contributors.
- * Features in Wild Magazine, Vertical Life Magazine, We Are Explorer Magazine, ABC Radio and much more...

The experts tell us the world is warming, but why do we care so much about a few lousy degrees?

These tales of adventure from remote and remarkable parts of the Earth explore a multitude of ways the world is changing and explain the science behind exactly what those few degrees mean.

Scientists share their own stories about falling into crevasses, facing sharks, surviving cyclones, chasing pirates on the high seas, and more.

Along the way, they examine critical elements of climate change, including sea ice and glacier melt, rising sea levels, bushfires, collapsing ecosystems, shifting ocean currents, and extreme weather events.

With knowledge comes power, and this book makes sense of how and why a warming planet matters.

Editor Bio:

Wendy Bruere is a writer, editor, and freelance adventure journalist. Currently the Assistant Editor of Vertical Life magazine, she has also written for Wild magazine, Great Walks, We Are Explorers, and more. She has published two previous anthologies, including the award-winning More Than It Hurts, which received a Special Jury Mention in the 2021 Banff Mountain Book Competition. The inspiration to create this book came after she struggled to find accessible material on climate science and decided to create the book she wanted to read—engaging scientists' stories to help an interested layperson like herself to understand the essential concepts behind climate science.

Author Bio:

Louise Denton is a landscape photographer residing in Darwin since 2009. She was immediately entranced with the unique natural environment surrounding the city, and what was meant to be a stay of a few weeks has somehow managed to turn into 13 years...The NT has a seemingness endless wilderness to explore. Louise is a keen adventurer and hiker, with the camera equipment in tow! Over the years of living here, Louise has sought to learn more about the region's local patterns and inhabitants, which she loves to share through her images. She is constantly inspired by the resilience of the place, the rugged landscapes and fascinating flora and fauna that come with the Territory. Louise has been running her business since 2011. Beginning as a hobby, which progressed to a full-time job in 2014. Up until 2021 she had been operating the business solo - from photographing, editing, running stalls and "pop up" shops. All the while doing all her own picture framing and everything else that comes with managing a small business. Louise is passionate about showcasing the beauty of Territory and how her photography connects with people - sharing memories of places, experiences, and an all-round enthusiasm for the unique landscapes of the NT.

Larapinta:An Adventure Through The West MacDonnell Ranges and BeyondBy Louise DentonKey Sales Points:

- * Great souvenir for people who have visited or lived in Alice Springs.
- * Travel planning resource includes info on the local area.
- * Photographic information, photography inspiration.
- * Once in a lifetime experience - great memento of that.
- * Travel inspiration - solo female traveller, hiking 230km solo through the desert. I only saw my first person on day 8!

The 230km Larapinta Trail from end-to-end is a landscape lovers paradise and a photographer's dream! Experience this ancient landscape through the vibrant images of Northern Territory photographer, Louise Denton. Louise shares personal insight on her experience of the trail as a photographer, in the hope of inspiring others to experience this ancient landscape for themselves.

This is one of Australia's most spectacular treks, revealing more natural diversity than one would expect of this arid landscape. Hikers are rewarded every mountain climbed, with incredible vistas as the track snakes across rocky ridgelines heading ever-closer to the distinguished outline of Mount Sonder in the east. The trail zigzags its way down into dramatic gullies and gorges, revealing hidden water supplies and fragile micro-habitats in an otherwise harsh environment.

Following the mountains of the West MacDonnell Ranges has plenty to offer without the long-distance hike! Through pages of the book soak up the epitome of the Red Centre - outback colours, unique geological formations, deep blue waterholes, and majestic ghost gums. Enjoy beautiful photography of Simpsons Gap, Ellery Creek, Ormiston Gorge, the Ochre Pits, Glen Helen, and Redbank Gorge, which intersect the Larapinta hike. The perfect keepsake, a reminder of this awesome part of Australia.

Author Bio:

Jeff Apter has written more than 30 books about Australian music and musicians. His subjects include the Bee Gees, John Farnham, Bon Scott, Daniel Johns, AC/DC's Young brothers, Marc Hunter, Johnny O'Keefe, Jon English, and many others. As a ghostwriter and/or co-writer, Jeff has worked with Kasey Chambers, Richard Clapton and Mark Evans (formerly of AC/DC) and was on staff at Rolling Stone for several years. Jeff lives on the NSW South Coast with his wife and two children, and enough pets to fill a small zoo.

Chasing the Dragon

The Life and Death of Marc Hunter

By Jeff Apter

Key Sales Points:

- * The only biography of Marc Hunter in print.
- * Written with the full cooperation of his family.
- * 2023 (July) is the 25th anniversary of Marc Hunter's death.
- * Targeting selected TV (Aust Story) and radio for PR.
- * Posters and other promotional material available on request.

He had it all: the heroin chic thing before it was chic, the scars, the swagger, an incredible stage presence. After bursting on to the Australian music scene in 1975, Dragon fast developed a reputation for both hard rocking and hard living.

As the highly visible and charismatic lead singer, Marc Hunter was the voice behind such timeless hits as 'April Sun in Cuba', 'Are You Old Enough?' and 'Rain'.

Yet Hunter was also a maverick whose destructive genius and serious heroin addiction led to a turbulent relationship with his bandmates, including older brother Todd.

And it contributed to his early death at just 44.

Originally published in 2011, this intimate portrait was written with full co-operation from Marc's mother Voi and his brother and former bandmate Todd, as well as contributions from many high-profile Australian music personalities such as James Reyne, John Paul Young, Kate Fitzpatrick, Richard Clapton, Don Walker, Kevin Borich, Tommy Emmanuel, and Robert Forster.

Behind Dark Eyes The True Story of Jon English

By Jeff Apter

Jon English was the original multitasker. He was the pop star with the raccoon eyes who sang such hits as 'Hollywood Seven', 'Six Ribbons' and 'Hot Town', and the rocker in leather duds who packed beer barns across Australia. Jon was also the swashbuckling Pirate King in the hugely successful Pirates of Penzance, and, in the words of Tim Rice, 'a brilliantly judged and truly exciting' Judas in Jesus Christ Superstar. And on the small screen he was as comfortable portraying faded rocker Bobby Rivers in All Together Now as he was the brooding convict Jonathan Garrett in Against the Wind. It seemed that no role, or song, was beyond his reach. But there was a lot more to Jon English. He was a proud father of four who married his high school sweetheart Carmen when he was barely out of his teens.

Tragedy: The Ballad of the Bee Gees

By Jeff Apter

The rollercoaster careers of the brothers Gibb – Barry, Robin, Maurice and younger brother Andy – is perhaps the greatest saga in Australian music history. The Bee Gees as a group, and the brothers individually, enjoyed several rebirths over careers that spanned many decades, but it seemed that tragedy followed them at every turn. For every incredible career high there seemed to be a hefty personal downside: divorce, drunkenness and early death are as synonymous with the Gibbs as falsetto harmonies, flares and multi-platinum selling records. This is the story of the brothers' incredible careers and an examination of the Gibb 'curse' – an all-too-human look at the yin and yang of fame. This edition is a re-issue of the original 2015 book entitled: Tragedy - the Sad Ballad of the Gibb Brothers.

Playing to Win The Definitive Biography of John Farnham

By Jeff Apter

In this deeply personal and insightful biography, author and music industry insider Jeff Apter provides a rare glimpse inside Farnham's world. Thanks to the support of those close to John it's unlike any other book about the man. A family man at heart and the most loyal of friends, John was sometimes uncomfortable with the spotlight and for many years struggled to make his music career as successful as those close to him - including Glenn Wheatley and Molly Meldrum - could see it could be. He finally hit his stride with 1986's Whispering Jack and the breakaway success of You're the Voice, which became the anthem of a generation. Jeff reveals the drama behind John being named Australian of the Year, how the cassette demo of You're the Voice was nearly overlooked, and how John once accidentally sparked the attention of ASIO.

Elton John - FarewellBy Carolyn McHugh*

During a dazzling 50-year musical career Sir Elton John has risen from playing the piano in the pubs of Pinner in North London to become a multi award winning global superstar with record sales of over GBP1 billion. Elton John - Farewell tells his extraordinary story and features the story of the Farewell Tour which runs through to July 2023. His 1970 breakthrough single 'Your Song' began his domination of the pop charts and established his credentials to fill the post Beatles landscape with his unique take on piano-based ballads pop and rock. Not since 50s stars Jerry Lee Lewis and Little Richard had a man and his piano made such an impact on modern music. Few would have imagined that Elton's early success and real emotional connection with his fans would be sustained over the next 50 years and see him become a singer songwriter extraordinaire and one of the most successful musical theatre composers in history. Flamboyant and prone to excess Elton has overcome problems with drink drugs and his sexuality to become notable fundraiser and charity campaigner notably through the Elton John AIDS foundation.

U2 formed in 1976 when the drummer posted a note to the school bulletin board. Over forty years later, the band is still producing music and touring the world with the same line-up they have had ever since the 1970s. U2 have become one of the most successful rock bands of all time, releasing fourteen studio albums and over seventy singles. In this book, the reader is guided through each release, song by song, from the band's first album "Boy" (1980) until the single "Your Song Saved My Life" released in 2021. Everyone knows U2's biggest hits-songs like "With or Without You," "One," and "Beautiful Day"-but delve into all the songs including B-sides, compilation tracks, and lesser-known album tracks. U2: Song by Song is a look at every song by the Irish rock group, written by a lifelong U2 fan. The book provides an examination of each track including the inspirations behind them and the impact that these songs have had on the world today. U2: Song by Song charts U2's rise to success, documenting chart positions, and awards given to each song.

Unreasonable Ambition

Renegade thinking for leaders to create impossible change.

By Vanessa Vershaw

We are at the edge of a new frontier of business leadership which can feel like a permanent rollercoaster ride of constant change and disruption, and no one is immune to these forces. Adapting to the new logic of business competition means creating opportunities from uncertainty and being witness to extreme reactions at both ends of the spectrum. Some leaders are energised by the adventure of what lies ahead, others are straining under the burden of confronting a future that is uncharted, with no rulebook or guardrails. Leaders who can channel their renegade thinking and create impossible change will be the ones to bend the world to their vision for a brighter future, they must have unreasonable ambitions for what's possible.

Mindset Mastery

Do less. Achieve more

By Darren Fleming

We spend our day playing whack-a-mole with distracting thoughts. When we need to concentrate, we are taken off-task by the urge to check emails, social media or other trivial things. Even if we can suppress the desire to check, we will soon be distracted by a memory of a conversation from last night, a secret fear we have, or something our inner voice wants to tell us. It's a constant struggle to quieten the voice so we can focus and get the job done. It is exhausting! But what are we fighting against? What are we playing whack-a-mole with? If you look closely, you'll notice there's an energetic sensation in our body. If we get rid of that energetic sensation, then we won't have to whack it. Then we will not be drawn to check emails, be bother by distractions or that conversation from last night.

Rediscover Your Athlete Within

A practical 10 step process to get you moving and keep you moving, for the rest of your life

By Dr. Brett Lillie

Hitting the 40s and 50s is a turning point. What we do from that moment on impacts the way we live the rest of our life. Rediscover Your Athlete Within is a book about challenging and guiding people through those sticky middle years to help them get off the couch and get active. Some may need a little nudge, others a big kick, but everyone can create a shift, reignite their passion, see the possibilities and redefine their future on their own terms. It's about giving people a new lease on life. Everyone has an athlete within, built upon all the skills developed since birth. Crawling, walking, running, playing in the backyard and through sports and activities we enjoyed growing up. We just need to take a good walk down memory lane, rediscover our athletic essence and harness who we already are.

Sensory Parenting for Sensory Children

By Tanya Van Dalen

When your child dysregulates, half the battle is managing your own response. In the moment, you're at the mercy of many competing feelings: embarrassment, fear, panic, exhaustion. Being able to recognise your own triggers and behaviours to stay calm and provide the best support to your child, is not a skill that comes easily. Helping parents and carers to reflect on themselves, think about how they manage sensory meltdowns and give them some simple ideas on how to manage their own emotions to help their child, this is a short and simple guide for those that parent or care for a child with sensory needs, or a sensory processing disorder (SPD). Drawing on Porges polyvagal theory, and using easy-to-follow animal analogies, this will empower parents to build empathy for their child, and themselves.

Looking After your Autistic Self

A Personalized Self-Care Approach to Managing your Sensory and Emotional

By Niamh Garvey

'I no longer try to mask my autism; I now work to support my autism' It is a myth that autistic children grow into 'less autistic' adults. In fact, many autistic adults feel more overwhelmed as they age as the stresses of social demands such as relationships, parenting, or the work environment increase. Niamh Garvey offers tips and tricks designed to reduce sensory and emotional stress and look after your autistic self. From understanding what's happening when the stress response kicks in to using the 'detective habit' to spot your individual strengths and triggers. What's more, every element of this book can be personalised to you. Featuring strategies including 'quick calm plans' for managing triggers and lived-experience advice on understanding emotional regulation, coping with sensory overload and how to look after your senses during intimacy.

Irrational Chess

By Cyrus Lakdawala

Most chess games witness familiar strategies and well-known tactical motifs. These are the games that you will find in the anthologies and opening repertoires. Sometimes however, games appear that seem to have been played on a different planet. Conventional strategies go out of the window. Familiar tactical themes are nowhere to be seen. Chaos has broken out. The pieces appear to be in open rebellion and are steadfastly refusing to do the natural jobs that they were designed for. Having to navigate a path in such a game can be a nightmare.

Do you rely purely on calculation? Is it better to trust your instincts? Can you assess the position using "normal" criteria? To answer these questions, prolific chess author and coach Cyrus Lakdawala has assembled a collection of brilliantly unconventional and irrational games. The positions in these games appear almost random. Kings have gone walkabout, pieces are on bizarre squares, huge pawn rollers are sweeping all before them.

Spider Wars

By Gina Newton, Nandina Vines

Key Sales Points:

- * An entertaining and educational picture book with a twist, based on real-world spiders—the amazing Peacock and Wolf spiders.
- * This colourful picture book helps children become more aware of the smaller creatures in nature, and the information section at the end of the book highlights key aspects of each spider's behaviour and ecology—all while enjoying a good story.
- * Audience: 5–10-year-olds, parents, carers, and educators.
- * The book can be read as a delightful and engaging experience with a child, or as an opportunity to excite children about some of Australia's smallest wildlife, while at the same time increasing their awareness and understanding.

Author Bio:

Author: Dr Gina M Newton is a multi-award-winning children's book author and enthusiastic about the conservation of Australia's wildlife. She trained as a marine biologist, zoologist, and science communicator. Her first picture book (fiction) has sold over 150,000 copies and her first information book for children won the CBCA Eve Pownall award, with her second short-listed. A graduate of Master Classes with renowned authors Fiona McIntosh and the late, great Bryce Courtney, Gina lives in Canberra with her two young adult children and many pets.

Illustrator: A keen reader from an early age, Nandina Vines, wrote, illustrated, and constructed her first picture book at the age of 8 years old. Her creative flare led her to work as a colourist with the Hannah Barbera Production Company and later, a career in graphic design. In recent years, Nandina changed her career direction to follow her lifelong dream of becoming an illustrator of children's picture books and has illustrated over ten different picture books for self-published authors. Nandina is passionate about animals, nature, and conservation. Nandina is not afraid of spiders and uses the catch-and-release method if a spider happens to stray indoors!

Spider Wars is West Side Story meets Star Wars and has A Bug's Life. The Wolf Spiders and the Peacock Spiders live on different sides of the Paddock. But they all believe the other side is better. Spider gangs are forever fighting over Middle Ground Hill, the only way to the other side.

Until... A dazzling Peacock Spider falls for an oh-so-pretty Wolf Spider, but they are banned from seeing each other. And when brave Sparklemuffin risks all to rescue Wolf Mother, the sweethearts discover that life on other side might not be so good after all. This humorous, action-packed tale comes with a twist and includes a fact-filled information section on garden Wolf Spiders and the tiny dancing Peacock Spiders

Safe Infant Sleep

Expert Answers to Your Cosleeping Questions

By James J. McKenna

Throughout history and across cultures, sleeping with your baby has been the norm, yet today the practice is fraught with questions, fear, and guilt.

Parents are left exhausted, and those who cherish the closeness of cosleeping find themselves doubting their parental instincts.

In Safe Infant Sleep, a globally recognized cosleeping authority breaks down the complicated political and social aspects of sleep safety and counters common misconceptions with hard science.

This book shares the latest scientific research on the benefits of cosleeping, offers guidelines for a variety of safe sleeping arrangements, and introduces “breast sleeping,” a bedsharing technique based on the fundamental biological connection between breastfeeding and infant sleep.

From bedsharing to room sharing, and everything in between, Dr. James J. McKenna helps you determine how cosleeping can meet your family’s unique needs.

Complete with resource lists for parents and professionals, this book educates, informs, reassures, and validates the most natural way for your baby to sleep—with you.

Author Bio:

Dr. James J. McKenna directed the Mother-Baby Behavioral Sleep Laboratory at the University of Notre Dame for 22 years, studying the physiology and behavior of sleeping mothers and infants. He earned a Ph.D. in biological anthropology from the University of Oregon, Eugene, and is the leading authority on breastfeeding in relationship to SIDS and bedsharing safety.

Finding Calm in Nature

A Guide for Mindful Kids

By Jennifer Grant, Erin Brown

"Let nature be your teacher when your feelings are tangled up in knots." One way to feel better when we are hurting is to spend time outside. Being in nature is good for both our bodies and our minds. Each chapter of this practical guide explores a different element of nature and connects it with a mindfulness prompt designed to help kids manage their feelings. From dandelions to spider webs, children will uncover the lessons nature teaches about embracing a growth mindset, the benefits of living in community, and the transformative power of noticing the beauty around them. Breathing exercises, stretching, practicing mindfulness, and keeping a nature notebook are just some of the tools introduced to kids to equip them to navigate their feelings as they spend time outdoors.

How a Boat Made from Flip-Flops Is Helping to Save the Ocean

By Linda Ravin Lodding, Dipesh Pabari

Juma is excited to go fishing with his grandfather, Babu Ali. But when they get to the beach, they find the sand covered in plastic pollution-- flip-flops, plastic straws, toothbrushes, bottles, and shopping bags. One of the flip-flops floating in on a wave looks like a boat. That gives Juma and Babu Ali an idea. Based on the true story of the Kenyan dhow boat Flipflop!, this inspirational tale demonstrates how innovation, art, and determination can transform plastic pollution into something useful. In 2017, 30,000 flip-flops and other plastic waste items, all collected from the Kenyan coast, were melted, shaped, and carved into the dhow named Flipflop!.
