When We Was Fab

Inside the Beatles Australasian Tour 1964

By Greg Armstrong, Andy Neill

Key Sales Points:

- * Captures the memories of Australian and New Zealand tour principals from over 100 interviews.
- * Contains several hundred photos, documents, memorabilia, press clippings and artifacts.
- * Lavishly designed by the Grammy nominated UK-based graphic artist, Philip Lloyd-Smee.

June 2024 will mark the 60th anniversary of the Beatles historic – and hysterical – visit to Australasia. The importance of the tour remains deeply significant, not only in the memories of baby boomers who lived through it, but also to today’s millennials who wish they had.

The Beatles Australasian tour is continually celebrated as a major social landmark for both countries, a huge and lasting step in the advancing development of youth culture, and a major highlight of the Beatles’ remarkable career.

When We Was Fab: Inside The Beatles Australasian Tour 1964 is the definitive and highly illustrated (with many previously unseen photographs) account of this extraordinary tour by the world’s most creative and influential musical force; the key moment in the coming of age of Australian and New Zealand youth as they embraced the cultural explosion of the 1960s.

Author Bio:

Greg Armstrong is a Melbourne-born and based radio presenter, researcher, and Beatles historian. He is a co-presenter on Australia’s Let It Be, the world’s longest-running radio show dedicated to the Beatles, on Melbourne’s WynFM. The show is now in its 31st continuous year, having broadcast over 1,400 episodes. Andy Neill is a UK-based music writer, researcher and historian, born in New Zealand. Alongside several other music biography books, he compiled and annotated Across The Universe: The Beatles on Tour and on Stage (2009) and Looking Through You: Rare and Unseen Photographs from the Beatles Book Monthly Archive (2015).

Angeball

Insights and Inspiration

By Chris McLeod

Key Sales Points:

- * An informative deep-dive on Ange Postecoglou, the first Australian manager in the history of the English Premier League, covering the impact of Angeball on English football particularly with Tottenham Hotspur, the coaches, players, Australians and many more.
- * He is Australia's most celebrated coach, at club and national level, before heading overseas where he had great success in Japan and Scotland before landing the top job at Tottenham Hotspur in the English Premier League.
- * The book features comprehensive summaries, statistics and a focus on his Australian roots in football.
- * A must-read for football fans and general sport fans, as well as sport and general biography readers looking for a fast-paced and highly entertaining read.

A definitive biography of Angelos Postecoglou, the soccer manager and former player who is the head coach of Premier League club Tottenham Hotspur.

When Ange Postecoglou became the first Australian to be appointed manager of an English Premier League Club he introduced his attacking style of play that was dubbed "Angeball" to the British football public.

Fans of Celtic in Scotland had already seen it. Fans way back in South Melbourne saw its beginning. Fans in Brisbane, Australia, and Tokyo in Japan had seen it develop. 'Angeball' is a brand of all-out attacking football where goals are gold.

It probably had its beginnings when the young son of a Greek migrant and his father were up in the middle of the night in Australia watching English football on TV. That son was Angelos Postecoglou and his path to the top-flight of football coaching began there and then.

This is the story of Postecoglou's Angeball, from schoolboy glory at Prahran High School in Melbourne to taking charge of one of England's "Big Six" football clubs.

Patty Mills 2/e

Beyond Basketball

By Boti Nagy

Key Sales Points:

- * This new and updated edition includes the 2023 World Cup and 2023-24 NBA season.
- * Written by award-winning sportswriter Boti Nagy, a five-time nominee for Basketball Australia’s Hall of Fame for his contribution to the sport and a record 12-time recipient of Australia’s Basketball Writer of the Year award, he brings a unique and close insight into the sport and its history as well as Patty’s achievements to date.
- * The first book to focus on Patty Mills with an overview of his career and leadership position in the Indigenous community—from the Shadows Basketball Club in Canberra to college basketball, the NBA and the Boomers’ historic Tokyo Olympics bronze medal win and all aspects of Patty Mills’ amazing and inspiring life, his commitment to share, give back and inspire every generation from the young to the old.
- * Available for Father’s Day, NBA 2023–24 Season commencing October, and for Christmas gifting.
- * Previous Edition ISBN: 9781922810106

Patty Mills: Beyond Basketball is the first book exploring the Indigenous Australian athlete and trail blazer—the first Indigenous Australian to win an NBA Championship in 2014 with the San Antonio Spurs.

He continues to break records and inspire with his achievements, all of which are covered in this tribute to the extraordinary sportsman.

In 2021 he led the Boomers to their first Olympic medal at the Tokyo Olympics, arguably the greatest single game played by anyone wearing the green-and-gold for an Australian men’s basketball team, and in 2022 he was awarded an AM (Member of the Order of Australia) for charitable initiatives in the Indigenous community and his contribution to basketball in the Australia Day honours.

The fan-favourite basketball star continues to inspire the next generation of basketballers as he blazes a trail in the NBA.

Author Bio:

A former News Corporation journalist and multiple award-winning sportswriter Boti Nagy is a five-time nominee for Basketball Australia’s Hall of Fame for his contribution to the sport and was inducted last year into the Basketball SA Hall of Fame. He previously has written three critically acclaimed books on basketball, “Highflyers,” “Mahervellous! The Brett Maher Story” and “A Type of Life” his memoir in the sport. During his working life, he has covered Olympic Games and basketball World Championships, with the unique distinction of seeing every team since the launch of the National Basketball League in 1979 and the Women’s NBL in 1981.

WOODSLANE WALKING GUIDES

Best Walks of the FLINDERS RANGES

The new guide to 30 fantastic walks

- ★ Walk remote landscapes and towering rock ramparts
- ★ Discover incredible geological formations
- ★ Learn about local fauna, flora and the environment
- ★ Includes colour maps, photos and detailed walk notes

Best Walks of the Flinders Ranges

The new guide to 30 fantastic walks

By Julie Mundy, Debra Heyes

Key Sales Points:

- * The first new book on walking in the ranges in several decades.
- * Written by a highly experienced author team.
- * Covers the full length of the ranges from Mt Remarkable to Arkaroola.

Best Walks of the Flinders Ranges includes 30 walks in this much-loved region, well-known as a walker's paradise.

Each walk specifies the distance, the total ascent and descent (if appropriate), the grade and the estimated duration and is accompanied by an accurate full-colour map.

Snippets about the Flinders' history and wildlife add colour and interest to the walking experience.

Families will enjoy information regarding child-friendly walks, and how to explore the bush safely with children of all ages.

Over 150 full-colour photos complement the text and provide the reader with a clear sense of the features on each walk.

This guide will help walkers discover many of the classic walks in the region, as well as some wild and adventurous tracks that few know exist.

Deb Heyes and Julie Mundy have been keen walkers their whole lives and have been walking together for over 15 years, including a wild and wonderful adventure to Patagonia. This is Julie's eighth and Deb's fifth walking guidebook for Woodslane Press, and researching, walking and writing them is both "full-on and wonderful". Exploring the Flinders Ranges has been right up there with some of their favourite walking ever, and now any excuse is a good one to be out there.

A Furious Devotion The Life of Shane MacGowan

By Richard Balls

Punk protagonist, legendary drinker, Irish musical icon. The complete and extraordinary journey of the Pogues' notorious frontman from outcast to national treasure has never been told – until now.

A Furious Devotion vividly recounts the experiences that shaped the greatest songwriter of his generation: the formative trips to his mother's homestead in Tipperary, the explosion of punk which changed his life, and the drink and drugs that nearly ended it.

As well as exclusive interviews with Shane himself, author Richard Balls has secured contributions from his wife and family, and people who have never spoken publicly about Shane before close associates, former girlfriends and the English teacher who first spotted his literary gift.

Nick Cave, Aidan Gillen, Cillian Murphy, Christy Moore, Sinéad O'Connor, and Dermot O'Leary are on the rollcall of those paying tribute to the gifted songwriter and poet.

This frank and extensive biography also includes many previously unseen personal photographs. The photos in the large paperback edition are printed in black and white.

Author Bio:

Richard Balls is a die-hard music fan who stumbled upon The Pogues on their first nationwide tour in 1984. An established writer and rock biographer, Richard was a newspaper journalist for twenty years - almost half of which he spent in Ireland. His previous books are Sex & Drugs & RocknRoll: The Life of Ian Dury and Be Stiff: The Stiff Records Story. He lives with his family in Norwich.

Being Seen

Mastering Parenting in the Digital Age

By Selena Bartlett

We love our children. As parents, we do the best we can. But parenting is the hardest job on the planet, and it has become even harder in the digital age. With staggering numbers of teens and even pre-teens on social media, child safety is at risk more than ever before. Our children are "being seen" by their screens more than by us—and this is having a serious impact on the mental well-being of our youth. In her book Being Seen, renowned neuroscientist and Mother Selena Bartlett cuts through the noise of the digital era to offer parents a science-backed, practical guide to nurture their children's brain health, manage stress and foster resilience. It's not just about limiting screen time—it's about understanding the neuroscience of brain development, parenting, and connection.

The Rise of Rage

Harnessing the Most Misunderstood Emotion

By Julie A. Christiansen

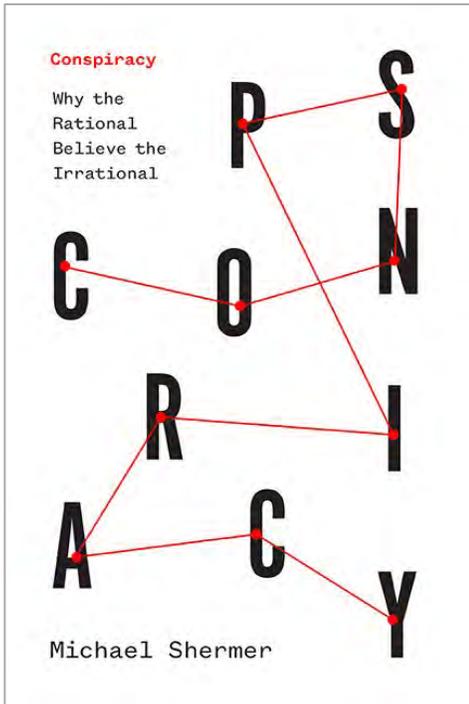

Of all the human emotions, anger is probably the most misunderstood. Why is it important to understand anger at all? Rage through the centuries--revolutions, wars, civil rights, independence from colonial rule and more.

Conspiracy
Why the Rational Believe the Irrational

By Michael Shermer

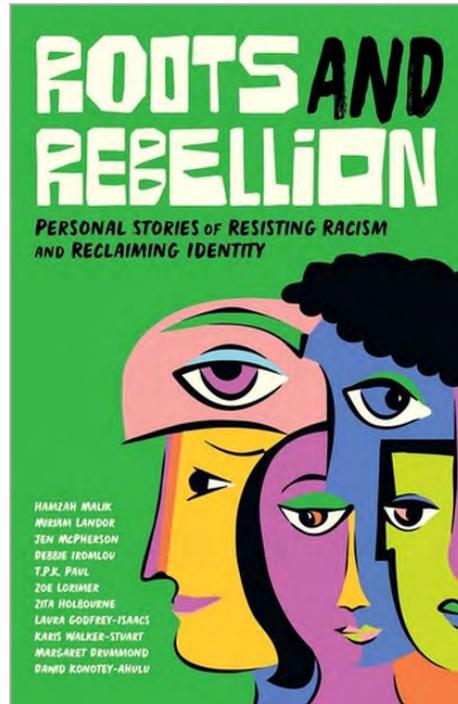

Nothing happens by accident, everything is connected, and there are no coincidences: that is the essence of conspiratorial thinking. In Conspiracy, Michael Shermer presents an overarching review of conspiracy theories-who believes them and why, which ones are real, and what we should do about them. Trust in conspiracy theories, he writes, cuts across gender, age, race, income, education level, occupational status- and even political affiliation.

One reason that people believe these conspiracies, Shermer argues, is that enough of them are real that we should be constructively conspiratorial: elections have been rigged (LBJ's 1948 Senate race); medical professionals have intentionally harmed patients in their care (Tuskegee); and more. But Shermer reveals that other factors are also in play: anxiety and a sense of loss of control play a role in conspiratorial cognition patterns, as do certain personality traits. This engaging book will be an important read for anyone concerned about the future direction of American politics, as well as anyone who's watched friends or family fall into patterns of conspiratorial thinking.

Roots and Rebellion
Personal Stories of Resisting Racism and Reclaiming Identity

By Jessica Kingsley Publishers, Dr Arun Verma

Despite the UK's long history of racial injustice, people from minoritised groups have fought back, engaging in advocacy, activism, and every-day acts of resistance to create positive change. This anthology is a prize-winning collection of these stories, spanning generations, cultures, and communities. They tell of subtle everyday acts of resistance like cooking traditional dishes from recipes passed down from grandparents displaced from their homelands, challenging microaggressions in the workplace, and sending care packages to relatives in occupied states.

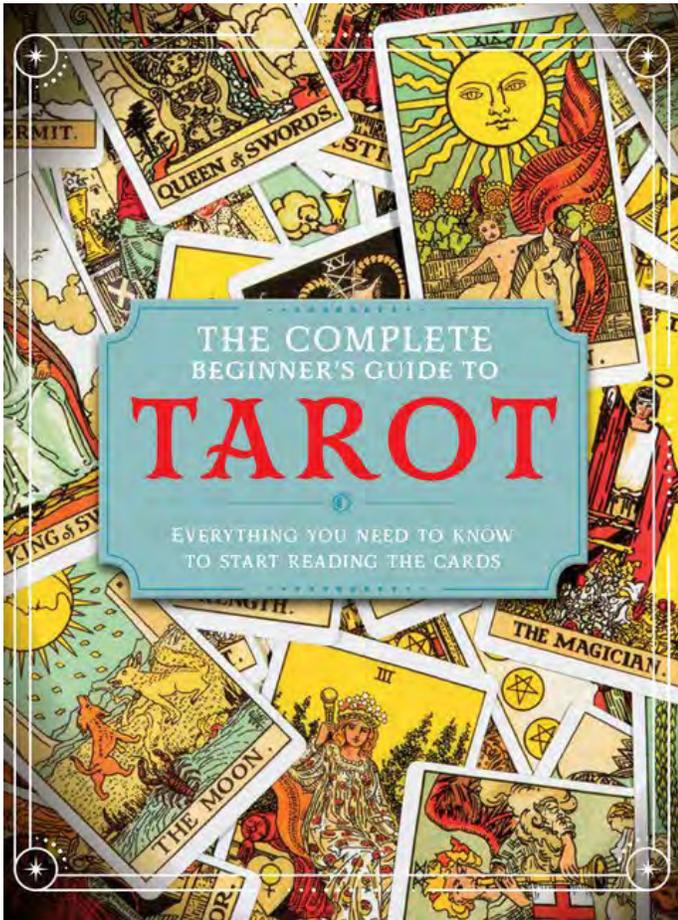

They also highlight bold and defiant rebellions such as building a successful business from scratch and against the odds, making perilous journeys, and fighting unlawful deportation. The fabric of these stories is made up of resistance, but also of belonging. They explore the complexities of feeling caught between identities as well as the joyful freedom found in reclaiming and rediscovering who you are. Full of humanity and bravery, this inspiring and unique kaleidoscope of journeys speaks to how nuanced and personal resistance against racism can be.

The Complete Beginners Guide to Tarot

Everything You Need to Know to Start Reading Cards

By Various

Key Sales Points:

- * A complete course on the history of the cards and how to use the Tarot cards for personal guidance.
- * This book is a mainstream guide for all beginners.
- * This book will help every newcomer understand and read the Tarot cards.
- * This book shares the insights and information that will help the reader to become a seasoned practitioner.

Cut the deck and draw your first card. The Page of Swords – you are curious and bold. And the second? The Hermit. A seeker after truth, prepared to venture forth to find it. The third and final card? The World.

You shall find the answers you seek, and your curiosity will be fulfilled. For centuries, tarot has offered its practitioners a resource to ask questions about their fate and that of the people and the world around them.

For some it's a meditative exercise, for others a magical tool. In this book you'll discover its sometimes surprising history, and how it went from an ordinary card game to one of the world's most famous divination tools.

You'll learn the occult secrets behind the imagery of the cards and discover who put them there, and why.

Plus, you'll find an in-depth guide to the meanings of the 22 cards of the Major Arcana and the 56 cards in the suits of the Minor Arcana, and easy-to-follow diagrams and guides to the most popular kinds of card readings, so that you too can interpret the mysteries of the tarot.

Feedback

Uncovering the Hidden Connections Between Life and the Universe

By Nicholas Golledge

We live in a world where things come and go, rise, and fall, grow and decay, tracing out cycles of change that are ordered and predictable. But amongst those well-behaved rhythms hide other phenomena, pulsing and fizzing and refusing to play by the same rules. Earth and the life upon it have evolved over billions of years to be right where we are now only because of feedback that pushed those systems until they broke. And then those systems adapted, reorganized, and rebuilt. With each new cycle of growth, it was feedback that created order from disorder and gave rise to a world perfectly optimized for everything it needed to be. Now the latest scientific research is revealing that the exact same patterns that describe plate tectonics, evolution, and mass extinctions also emerge in the heartbeat of our everyday lives.

Not So Sloppy

By Ian Hyslop

After three decades of working in the fiercely competitive world of Australian television, Journalist Ian Hyslop reflects on a news career that spanned the globe, reporting on major breaking stories that shaped a generation. From a cadetship with the ABC in the 1970s to his time as a foreign correspondent in the United States and Asia, Hyslop interviewed celebrities, politicians, and newsmakers about their time in the headlines. 'Sloppy' to his colleagues, Ian was Channel 7's correspondent in Los Angeles in the 1980s, reporting on everything from the antics of Hollywood legends to the power plays of American politicians. Witness the world through Ian's eyes as he finds himself at Cape Canaveral, grappling with the aftermath of the Challenger disaster, and aboard the 'press plane' during the 1988 Presidential campaign, where he somehow managed to keep up with George Bush and avoid a brush with death.

Tales of Horror

Terrifying Stories to Keep You Awake Past Midnight

By Bill Bowers

Here is a collection of classic stories that deserve to be celebrated, and others that are less well known but deserve recognition from modern readers. Some of these stories have practically defined the horror genre, such as "The Monkey's Paw" by W.W. Jacobs, one of the most frequently anthologized English-language stories of all time. Also included are two stories by Edgar Allan Poe: "The Facts in the Case of M. Valdemar" and "The Cask of Amontillado." Others are "The Damned Thing" by Ambrose Bierce, "The Mummy's Foot" by Theophile Gautier, "The Night Wire" by H. F. Arnold, "At Abdul Ali's Grave" by E. F. Benson, "The Secret of the Growing Gold" by Bram Stoker, and more.

Climbing the Vines in Burgundy

How an American Came to Own a Legendary Vineyard in France

By Alex Gambal

Named one of the New York Times Best Wine Books of 2023 Named one of the Washington Posts Best Wine Books of 2023 This is a unique tale about the first non-Frenchman to ever own one of the Montrachet Grand Cru vineyards in Burgundy, France. Weaved throughout entertaining stories that celebrate the history of this world-renowned region, is the chronicle of an American breaking through cultural barriers to find adventure and success. After a rather conventional start, Alex Gambal left his family's real estate and parking business to follow his passion for wine and winemaking. In 1993, he moved to Beaune, France with his wife and two children. For three years he worked with an exporter, to market and sell some of the oldest French family-owned domains in the world. He and his family were welcomed into a community of distinguished winemakers.

Spitfire Across The Atlantic

By Ricardo Martin Lezon

On the morning of 24 December 1943, 542 Squadron's intelligence officer briefed Flt Lt J. Storey on covering Crossbow sites in the Calais-Abbeville areas. He was airborne at 11 a.m. and set course in his Spitfire for the French coast, passing over London at 15,000 feet. The weather was perfect over the Channel, so he levelled off and 'harried' to Dunkirk and then set course to Abbeville. Some 50 miles before reaching the objective, noisy oscillations in his earphones gave warning that the German anti-aircraft battery caught the intruder aircraft in the radar beam they used to direct fire. Occasionally, he rolled the Spitfire up on her side to check beneath him. To conserve fuel, he began a gradual climb up through 40,000 feet and levelled off at 41,500 feet. Over the objective, he lined up the aircraft and began his runs.

The Great Escape from Stalag Luft III

The Memoir of Jens Mueller

By Jens Mueller, Jon Mueller

A thrilling, first-person account of one of the most famous prison escapes of World War II. Jens Mueller was one of only three men who successfully escaped from Stalag Luft III on the night of 24 March 1944 - the breakout that later became the basis for the famous film The Great Escape. This memoir tells how Mueller, a pilot in one of the RAF's Norwegian squadrons, was shot down by the Luftwaffe over the English Channel in June 1942. After some days at sea in his Spitfire's life raft, he made it to land in Belgium but was soon captured by the occupying Germans and sent as a prisoner of war to Stalag Luft III (now in Zagan, Poland). Mueller vividly describes life in the camp, how the escapes were planned and relates the compelling story of his personal breakout.

The Doctor Was a Woman

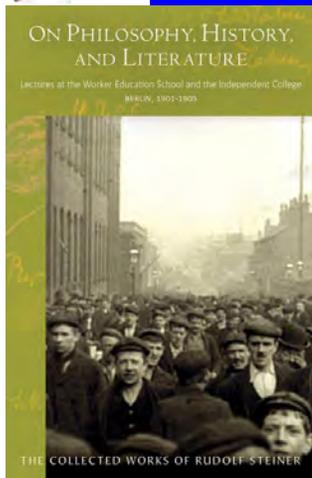

Stories of the First Female Physicians on the Frontier

By Chris Enss

A New York Times Bestseller! "No women need apply." Western towns looking for a local doctor during the frontier era often concluded their advertisements in just that manner. Yet apply they did. And in small towns all over the West, highly trained women from medical colleges in the East took on the post of local doctor to great acclaim. In this new book, author Chris Enss offers a glimpse into the fascinating lives of fourteen of these amazing women. This edition includes 4 new chapters on pioneering female physicians.

On Philosophy, History, and Literature

Lectures at the Worker Education School and the Independent College, Berlin, 1901-1905

By Rudolf Steiner, Clifford Venho

Wide-ranging, illuminating, and entirely unique in Rudolf Steiner's Collected Works, this volume consists of lectures given at the Worker Education School and at the Independent College in Berlin (along with a lengthy appendix on Steiner's activity in the Giordano Bruno Association). Concerning his teaching activities in the Worker School, Steiner later reflected in his autobiography, "I had to find a completely different way of expressing myself than I had become used to until then" (p. 193). This was due largely to his students' working-class background. Steiner's new approach involved allowing "idealism to arise from materialism." The result was the foundation for what he called "historical symptomatology"—that is, the study of the deeper causes behind history through their symptomatic expression in concrete historical events.

New Daoism

A Fresh Look at Laozi

By Kwan-Yuk Claire Sit

New Daoism analyses the Daoist classic Laozi (also called Daodejing) through the lens of the anthroposophical teaching of Rudolf Steiner, a research combination that Kwan-Yuk Claire Sit has been studying for over twenty years. She explains why Daoism can be regarded as esoteric Christianity and how the practice of Daoism can lead to a mystical union with Christ. Claire Sit provides practical advice on matters such as how to manifest one's wishes. The author explores deep and subtle aspects of Dao, incorporating numerous anecdotes to illustrate this path of self-realisation.

From Eclipse to Apocalypse

Star Wisdom Volume 6: With monthly ephemerides for 2024 and for the months of Jesus Christ's ministry

By Joel Matthew Park

Each volume of Star Wisdom includes articles of interest on star wisdom (Astrosophy) and a guide to the correspondences between stellar configurations during the life of Christ and those of today. The guide comprises a complete sidereal ephemeris and aspectarian, geocentric and heliocentric, for days throughout the year. According to Rudolf Steiner, every step taken by Christ during his ministry between the Baptism in the Jordan and the Resurrection was in harmony with—and an expression of—the cosmos. Star Wisdom is concerned with heavenly correspondences during the life of Christ. It is intended to provide a foundation for cosmic Christianity, the cosmic dimension of Christianity—a dimension that has been missing from its two-thousand-year history.

Crushing OCD Workbook for Kids

50 Fun Activities to Overcome OCD with CBT and Exposures

By Natasha Daniels, Richy K. Chandler

Show OCD who's boss! Using the exercises in this book, you'll learn how to spot when OCD is stirring up trouble, and how to stop it in its tracks. All 50 activities are designed by an expert therapist for kids aged 8-12 to help you grow your skills to take down OCD - starting with how to recognise compulsions and building up to using exposure so you can tackle OCD even when it's sleeping. This book also contains helpful info for parents and carers so they can be effective backup while you're working on your anti-compulsion skills. Each section of this book shows you how to build a different skill, so you can handle whatever OCD throws at you and build up all your muscles to crush OCD!
